COMMITTEE ON LIBRARY:

Brethren:—

Permission is, hereby, granted for the publication of Volume No. 3, of the History of Freemasonry in Pennsylvania, as shown by the Records of Lodge No. 2, and Documents in the Archives of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, compiled from original sources by Brothers Norris S. Barratt and Julius F. Sachse.

Care and Industry are shown in the preparation of this History. It is a valuable contribution to the Masonic literature of Pennsylvania.

Truly yours and fraternally,

James B. Krause.
Grand Master.

PREFACE.

VOLUME One covers from 1727 to St. John's Day, 1781, and gives the beginning of Freemasonry in Pennsylvania as shown by the records of Lodge No. 2 as well as the services of our brethren in the Revolutionary War, having the great distinction of 16 Colonels, 10 Majors and 28 Captains, all members of Lodge No. 2 in the Continental Army, who all saw actual service and helped to obtain American Independence. That this patriotic spirit still animates the craft is shown by the statistics of this great world war. The State of Pennsylvania has one hundred and thirty-six thousand Master Masons in the Fraternity and has contributed over ten thousand of them to the Service of the United States. These brethren have left their usual vocations to serve their country. Some are in foreign lands, others are preparing to enter the branches of the Service to which they have been ordered. Wherever they have gone and whatever service they have performed we know they have done it loyally and well, and that the lessons taught in the various degrees will sustain and comfort them. Every power of our Organization and every force of our influence were marshalled at this critical period to serve mankind and to labor devotedly for its true welfare.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

The Fraternity has always served our country and its members have been ready to devote their time, energies and lives to the cause of Liberty, for which our flag stands.

Volume Second contains the Masonic History of Pennsylvania from 1781 to December, 1813, and this present volume, the third, is from 1813 to 1855, commencing with the War of 1812, the importance of which is not generally understood until it is realized that by it the United States obtained the rights for which the Revolution was fought. One of the cardinal principles of Freemasonry is loyalty to government and obedience to law and constituted authority, hence the anti-Masonic craze or Morgan excitement, as it was called, which existed 1826-1840, was uncalled for. The facts which are accurately given in the text of this volume show Lodge No. 2 under its Master in 1837-38-39, William Cummings, with the assistance of Brother John Thomson of Lodge No. 51, afterwards Grand Master, came together from time to time while the storm was at its highest, although there was a resolution upon the Secretary's desk to surrender its warrant, which finally was defeated. And it also plainly appears that the politicians of the anti-Masonic movement used false statements to poison the public mind and create a popular delusion to obtain votes for their cause and array the unthinking and misinformed against the Fraternity.

DeWitt Clinton was a candidate for governor. At that period he held all the important official stations in Masonry: R. W. Grand Master of New York, Grand High Priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of the United States, and Grand Master of the General Encampment of the Knights Templar of the United States. It is stated a paper published in New York, called the National Union, was started for the sole purpose of helping his election as governor. The editor was Samuel H. Jenks, of Nantucket, Mass., who was Deputy Grand Master in 1825. On October 30, 1824, he printed the following notice:

"Brethren: Your former Grand Master is now a candidate for the support of the 'free and accepted.' De Witt Clinton, if there be any virtue in the cardinal principles of your faith, will receive your undivided suffrage for governor. It is in periods of trial, like the present, that the wisdom of Freemasonry has been exercised, its strength tested, and its beauty displayed. Amidst the dark ages of past time, the great lights of our Order, though often obscured, have never been extinguished. Shall they now be eclipsed by the 'introduction of strangers among the workmen?' Will you suffer the political edifice to be 'daubed with untempered mortar?' No, surely! The architect of your internal prosperity is before you. Enter warmly into the cause of your Brother—pass onward to the ballot boxes with the tokens of your zeal and fidelity—and by your united votes contribute to raise the state to that exalted rank to which she is so justly entitled.

(Signed),

"THE WIDOW'S SON."

This political appeal was grossly improper. It ought not to have been made, as it is contrary to Masonic principles, and we regret and deplore the fact it was done, but Brother Clinton was elected governor of New York in 1824 and was still in office in 1826 when Morgan disappeared.

The anti-Masonic Party in the United States had about 340,000 voters in all. In Maine it had about one thousand votes. Vermont was anti-Masonic and the only state carried by the party.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

Pennsylvania, to her discredit, held an anti-Masonic Convention September 11, 1830, and adopted a report of a committee that Morgan was foully murdered and demanded our Fraternity should be suppressed. The report gave the following reasons for the recommendation:

“To this government Freemasonry is wholly opposed. It requires unresisting submission to its own authority, in contempt of public opinion, the claims of conscience, and the rights of private judgment.

“The means of overthrowing Freemasonry cannot be found in any, or in all, of our executive authorities. They cannot be found in our judicial establishments.

“The only adequate corrective of Freemasonry—that prolific source of the worst abuses—is to be found in the right of election, and to this we must resort.

“Freemasonry ought to be abolished. It should certainly be so abolished as to prevent its restoration. No means of doing this can be conceived so competent as those furnished by the ballot boxes.”

It was a most bitter fight, particularly because it had some foolish Presbyterian and Methodist ministers in it, misled by false statements but right and truth prevailed, as it always will in the end, which began in 1836, when the anti-Masonic Party held its last national convention. They called themselves the Christian Party in politics, and while they heard the truth refused to accept it, and as those kind of men always use every instrument at hand at their inspiration the Presbyterian Church responded in January, 1827, in Pittsburgh by the passage of a resolution condemning our Fraternity as unfit for professing Christians. They even went so far as to require its members to renounce Masonry, in which Rev. Ezra Stiles Ely, the pastor of the Seventh Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, was a leader. It is the one blot on his otherwise distinguished career. The more difficult for us to understand now from the fact that in 1836 Rev. John Chambers, the most prominent and distinguished Presbyterian clergyman of Philadelphia, became Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, which position he occupied until 1874. The Congregationalists in New England also joined them, and that stampeded the Methodists, who lost their heads also, and the General Conference in 1823 not only prohibited their ministers becoming Masons, but did all in its power to aid the anti-Masonic Party. The Baptist Church could not be fooled and exercised better judgment than the Presbyterians, Congregationalists and Methodists.

To the virulent abuse the Fraternity, conscious of its innocence, made no reply, but in 1831 Brother Charles W. Moore, Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, prepared the following, which states the position of the Fraternity so accurately we cannot refrain from quoting it. It reflects great credit upon him and we venture to suggest the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts should by appropriate action inform the craft of its everlasting debt to Brother Moore because at that period it required moral courage to do and say what he did:

“WHEREAS, it has been frequently asserted and published to the world that in the several degrees of FREEMASONRY, as they are enforced in the United States, the candidate, in his initiation and subsequent advancement, binds himself by oath to sustain his Masonic brethren in acts which are at variance with the fundamental principles of morality and incompatible with his duty as a good and faithful citizen, in justice therefore to themselves, and with a view to establish TRUTH and expose IMPOSITION, the undersigned, many of us the recipients of every degree of Freemasonry known and acknowledged in this country, do most SOLEMNLY DENY the existence of any such obligations in the MASONIC INSTITUTION, so far as our knowledge respectively extends. And we as SOLEMNLY AVER that no person is admitted to the Institution without first being made acquainted with the nature of the obligations which he will be required to incur and assume.

“FREEMASONRY secures its members in the freedom of thought and of speech, and permits each and everyone to act according to the dictates of his own conscience in matters of religion, and of his personal preferences in matters of politics; it neither knows, nor does it assume to inflict upon its erring members, however wide may be their aberration from duty, and penalties or punishments other than those of ADMONITION, SUSPENSION and EXPULSION.

“The obligations of the Institution require of its members a strict obedience to the laws of God and man. So far from being bound by any engagements inconsistent with the happiness and prosperity of the nation, every citizen who becomes a Mason is doubly bound to be true to his GOD, to his COUNTRY, and to his FELLOWMAN.

“In the language of the Ancient Constitutions of the Order, which are printed and open for public inspection, and which are used as text books in all the lodges, he is required to keep and obey the MORAL LAW; to be a quiet and peaceful citizen, true to his government and just to his country.

“MASONRY disdains the making of proselytes; she opens the portals of her asylum to those who seek admission with the recommendation of a character unspotted by immorality and vice. She simply requires of the candidate his assent to one great, fundamental, religious truth—THE EXISTENCE AND PROVIDENCE OF GOD; and a practical acknowledgment of those infallible doctrines for the government of life which are written by the finger of God on the heart of man.

“ENTERTAINING such sentiments, as MASONS, as CITIZENS, as CHRISTIANS, and as MORAL MEN, and deeply impressed with the conviction that the MASONIC INSTITUTION has been, and may continue to be, productive of great good to their fellowmen; and having ‘received the laws of the society, and its accumulated funds, in sacred trust for charitable uses,’ the undersigned can neither renounce nor abandon it.

“We most cordially unite with our Brethren of Salem and vicinity in the declaration and hope that, ‘should the people of this country become so infatuated as to deprive Masons of their civil rights, in violation of their written constitutions, and the wholesome spirit of just laws and free governments, a vast majority of the Fraternity will still remain firm, confiding in God, and the rectitude of their intentions for consolation, under the trials to which they may be exposed."

Thurlow Weed, of New York, and Thaddeus Stevens, of Pennsylvania, were the master minds who guided the anti-Masonic Party, but it has reflected no credit on them, and posterity knows their claims and charges were false and untrue, and regards their conduct in this respect as unworthy of them and a blot upon their memory—and reputations.

Another matter treated of in this Volume is the Masonic career of our Brother Stephen Girard. The evidence and original records have been carefully gathered by Bro. Julius F. Sachse and examined and considered by us both, and it tends to show:

1. Stephen Girard was made a Mason on January 28, 1788, in Union Blue Lodge, No. 8, Charleston, South Carolina.
2. He never affiliated with any Lodge in Pennsylvania and therefore was not a Pennsylvania Mason (p. 241).
3. Stephen Girard was buried December 31, 1831, in the ground adjoining the German Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church, northwest corner Sixth and Spruce streets.
4. When the main building of Girard College was about completed the commissioners of the Girard estate and the city authorities made arrangement for his disinterment. This was in December, 1850. The Fraternity had nothing to do with the removal.
5. The anti-Masonic days had just passed and some of the heirs of Girard objected and asked the court for an injunction to prevent the removal of the remains, and the matter was heard and decided September 30, 1851, by Judges King, Parsons and Kelly, Judge King suggesting that the applicants had better permit the city to proceed with the ceremonies and place the body in the sarcophagus at the Girard College, and this was done September 30 with appropriate ceremonies by the Grand Lodge and Subordinate Lodge, as shown on page 389. And since this time our Brother Girard has peacefully slept in the main building of the college which he founded and where we hope he will remain until the last trump shall sound on Resurrection Morn.

His memory is cherished by his brethren and the Masonic Fund, which bears the name of Stephen Girard Charity Fund, has done untold good to the recipients. The fund itself now amounts to $90,050 and $3,750 was distributed by the stewards in the year 1918 to those entitled to receive it.

CHAPTER XXII

THE MASONIC HALL IN CHESTNUT STREET, 1814—1819

THE Second Volume of our History of "Freemasonry 1727—1907, as shown by the records of Lodge No. 2, F. & A. M.," closes with the year 1813, a period in which civil and political conditions both state and national were more or less unsettled, which naturally had its reflex more or less upon our fraternity.

It has been stated that the year 1814 was one of the most exciting periods in the History of Philadelphia, if not of the United States of America. The War with Great Britain had centered upon our shores, the Delaware and Chesapeake were blockaded by the enemy, and the foe landed upon our shores; the British under Ross defeated the Americans at Bladensburg, entered Washington the next day ruthlessly burned the Capitol and destroyed all the other public buildings.

PRINCIPLES OF THE WASHINGTON BENEVOLENCE SOCIETY, FROM AN OLD HAND BILL IN THE LIBRARY COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA.

The Masonic Hall in Chestnut Street

These outrages revived revolutionary zeal, and inspired the National Government with a new spirit and united the people of the Middle States for a more aggressive war, while the eastern states resisted the embargo, and took little interest in driving the foreign foe from our shores.

Among the most loyal organizations in our community was the Washington Benevolent Society, which was closely allied to our Grand Lodge; Patriotic Banquets were given by the Benevolent Society, February 22nd and July 4, in the Masonic Hall on Chestnut Street, when patriotic addresses were made and toasts drank.

The large banquet hall in the Chestnut Street Hall at that time was the favorite place for all social and patriotic functions.

One of the most important of these functions at this time was, when the native Germans, Hollanders and Switzers celebrated Napoleon's defeat in the battle at Leipzig, by a grand dinner at the Masonic Hall, February 24, 1814.

A copy of this program, printed by Conrad Zentler, the german printer, Second Street near Race, is still extant, containing the toasts, speeches, music and cantata, composed for the occasion by L. F. Bernhardt, also the patriotic address by Christian L. Mannhardt. The title of this pamphlet reads:

"Short account of the festival celebration and Banquet by Germans, Hollanders and Swiss in the Freemason's Hall in Philadelphia, February 24, 1814."

The first stated meeting of Lodge No. 2, in the year 1814, was held January 10; that the year did not open auspiciously for the fraternity is shown by the Minutes of the Lodge.

It was moved by B^r. I. Webster, seconded by B^r. Burden, that a committee of five members be appointed to devise ways and means of raising a sufficient sum of money for the purpose of discharging our Dues to the Grand Lodge, whereupon the following members were appointed as the committee, to wit: B^r. Burden, Shelmerdine, Sommer, McKeage and G. A. Baker, junr.

October 10, 1814.—Stated Meeting. Present 10 members.

Brs McKeage & Griffiths were appointed a committee to wait upon Br Alex^a Ramsey to give him proper instructions to receive the second degree of Masonry.

B^r. Burden on behalf of the committee appointed at our last meeting, for the purpose of devising ways and means of discharging our dues to the Grand Lodge, stated that they had not acted. It was resolved that the committee be continued.

B^r. Burden offered a resolution for repealing that part of the 14th section of our By-Laws which relates to the salary that shall be given to the Secretary, and proposed that the following be inserted instead thereof, to wit: "The Secretary for the faithful performance of his duties shall receive one dollar on each stated night of meeting, one dollar for every initiation, and be exempt from dues. Ordered to lie over for two stated meetings.

Brs McKeage & Webster were appointed Stewards, to prepare refreshments for next Stated Meeting.

November 14, 1814.—Stated Meeting. Present 8 members & 1 visitor.

It was particularly requested by the Lodge that the Secretary notify B^r. W^m. Meguire & B^r. John Douglass to attend our next stated meeting. It was also requested that each member receive information from the Secretary to attend the election for officers to be held on our next stated night.

The resolution to reduce the Secretary's salary having lain the time required by our By-Laws, was again brought forward by B^r Burden, and adopted by the Lodge. B^r. O'Brien moved that the following clause be added to it, viz.: "The Secretary shall also receive 50 cents for the admission of a new member," which was likewise approved of. The resolution therefore shall read as follows: "The Secretary for the faithful performance of his duties shall receive one dollar on each stated night of meeting, one dollar for every initiation, fifty cents for the admission of a new member, and be exempt from dues.

At this time Lodge No 2 as well as the Fraternity in general suffered a severe loss in the death of the R. W. Grand Secretary Bro George A. Baker.

Brother George Adam Baker, who for many years was one of the most active members of Lodge No. 2 and the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, serving as R. W. Grand Secretary from 1797 to the time of his decease, was born in Germantown, July 27, 1736; died, Philadelphia, December 8, 1816. He was a son of Hilarius Becker, a tutor in the old Germantown Academy (b. 1705 in Bernheim near Frankfurt, d. June 23, 1783). In his early life he was in the mercantile business near the Arch St. ferry, and dealt in wine, spices, salt, tea, paper, shoes, glassware, crockery, grain, etc. Later in life he became a conveyancer with his office and dwelling at the northeast corner of Fourth and Cherry Sts. (still standing). He was a member of the City Councils 1801-1803 and served as city treasurer, 1802-3, 1807-9, 1811-13.

Brother Baker was a citizen universally known and respected. In dress and appearance he remained true to the style of traditions of a gentleman of "ye olden tyme." He wore knee breeches, silk stockings, shoes with silver buckles and a queue with powdered hair.

Brother Baker received the first step in Freemasonry within the tyled portals of Lodge No. 2, June 29, 1779; crafted September 15, raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason, September 22 of same year. December 13, 1779, he was elected secretary of his Lodge.

At the Annual Communication held December 2, 1816, mention was made of his illness and the office was filled pro tem. by his son, Geo. A. Baker, jr. A week later Brother Baker died. On the next day following notice appeared in the papers:

GRAND LODGE OF PENNSYLVANIA,

Philadelphia, December 9, 1816.

The officers and members of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, the members of subordinate Lodges, and sojourning Brethren are respectfully invited to meet at the Hall of the Grand Lodge on Wednesday next precicely at 11 o'clock, in the forenoon, for the purpose of proceeding from thence in procession to attend the funeral of our deceased Brother George A. Baker,—late R. W. G. Secretary.

The Masonic Ball in Chestnut Street

N. B. The Brethren will as far as is convenient appear in black, with aprons and gloves.

This Masonic funeral, according to contemporary accounts, was one of the most imposing ever seen in Philadelphia of a private citizen and attracted much attention.

At the next meeting of the Grand Lodge it was resolved to erect a marble monument in his honor.

Brother Baker was buried in the new Lutheran graveyard, then between Race and Vine, Eighth and Franklin Streets. Some thirty years ago this ground was sold and the remains scattered. No trace of this memorial is now to be found.

Brother Baker left three sons, J. Hilary (b. 1779, d. 1852), John Louis (b. 1781, d. 1847) and George Adam, jr. (b. 1783, d. 1823), who succeeded his father as Grand Secretary and also served until his death.

"The W. M. stated for the information of the Brethren, that in the year 1798, on the recommendation of the Grand Committee of charity, to the different Lodges in the City of Philadelphia, the sum of fifty guineas was subscribed for the purpose of purchasing perpetual shares in the Philadelphia Dispensary. That Lodge No 2 subscribed and paid ten guineas towards this laudable object. That with the fifty guineas thus subscribed, Ten shares were purchased, and the Certificate for the same issued in the name of the Grand Lodge.

That, between two & thre years since, when the Northern & Southern Dispensaries were established, the managers of the Philadelphia Dispensary addressed a letter to the Grand Lodge, stating that the great increase of patients of latter years, had made it impracticable to continue its medical assistance and attention to patients out of the city; that two new Dispensaries had been formed one in the Northern Liberties & in Southwark, that as they could not meet the expectations of the Grand Lodge, they expressed a wish to return the whole of the money which had been subscribed. A resolution was then passed by the Grand Lodge authorizing the Grand Treasurer to receive the said sum of fifty guineas, who accordingly received it from the Dispensary. That on the 5th day of October last a resolution was passed by the Grand Lodge directing the Grand Treasurer to credit such of the Lodges who had subscribed towards the Dispensary, as should apply for it, in their accounts with the Grand Lodge, for the several sums by them respectively paid."

"On Motion made & Seconded, Resolved, that the application be made to the Grand Treasurer to credit this Lodge in their account with the Grand Lodge with the sum of Ten guineas subscribed towards the Philadelphia Dispensary."

As stated in the minutes, Lodge No. 2, on the evening of March 8, 1819, closed in harmony at nine o'clock. Little did the brethren think as they walked out on Chestnut Street and separated for their homes that that meeting was to be the last lodge meeting held and regularly closed within the beautiful Masonic Hall designed and built by Bro. Strickland, at that time the most ornate and beautiful Masonic building upon the American continent, and perhaps second to none in the old world, or that within twenty-four hours the interior fittings and the graceful spire surmounting the hall would fall a victim to the devouring flames and be reduced to ashes.

MASONIC HALL, DESTRUCTION BY FIRE, MARCH 9, 1819.
CHESTNUT STREET, BETWEEN SEVENTH AND EIGHTH,
NORTH SIDE, PHILADELPHIA.

CHAPTER XXIII.

A PUBLIC CALAMITY, 1819-1820

TUESDAY, March 9, 1819, opened dark and overcast; a typical March day with cold winds and snow. The night was dark and disagreeable. The Masonic Hall, however, stood in bright light with strains of music from the dancing party in the salon on the first floor.

The Brethren of Washington Lodge, No. 59, A. Y. M., had assembled in the Grand Lodge Room on the second floor, it being the night for their stated meeting. The Lodge was duly opened, the minutes read, a petition was reported and the result of a favorable ballot was announced by the Worshipful Master, when the Lodge was thrown into consternation by the cry of fire throughout the hall. This was heightened by the deep tones of the State House bell, calling out the fire apparatus and citizens with their leather fire buckets, together with the clanging of the bells on the arriving hose carts. The fire, which, it is supposed, originated in one of the chimney flues leading from the ball room on the first floor, quickly ate its way to the roof, illuminating the sky. The progress of the fire was rapid. The elegant steeple was soon ablaze. The ringing of the fire bells throughout the city brought all the various fire apparatus to the scene which was composed of volunteer companies together with an immense concourse of the citizens, many of whom bewailed the destruction of one of the chief ornaments of the city.

The fire made such rapid progress that the Brethren of Washington Lodge, meeting in the Grand Lodge room on the second floor, had not time to close the Lodge without risking the lives of the brethren. All, however, escaped in safety, without however saving any of the property of the Lodge. The first "Book of Transactions" and all the records from 1793 to 1806, the aprons painted by Woodside with much other property of the Lodge, was destroyed.

The citizens and firemen worked well into the night, and it was long after midnight before the fire was under control, and all danger from extending to adjoining properties passed.

When the sun rose upon the next day, there was nothing left of the venerated pile but the gray walls and the smoking ruins of the interior.

Fortunately the masonry of the walls was still intact, and, upon subsequent examination, it was found that they were unharmed by the conflagration and still serviceable. Steps were immediately taken towards rebuilding the hall, which was accomplished without, however, replacing its chief ornament, the beautiful spire, which had capped the original building.

A Public Calamity

Following are some of the newspaper accounts of the calamity, and the subsequent action taken towards the rebuilding of the Masonic Hall:

Philadelphia, Wednesday Morning, March 10, 1819.

A PUBLIC CALAMITY.

Yesterday evening, that superb edifice, the MASONIC HALL, situated in Chestnut-street, between Seventh and Eighth streets, fell a prey to the devouring Flames. This elegant building, reared by the piety of faithful Brethren, was one of the ornaments that graced our city. To the whole community, the loss is great, but most particularly so to the Masonic Fraternity—their loss is immense; but this is not all; their means of usefulness, from this extensive calamity, are, in a great measure, cut off:—pursuing an extended system of love and benevolence, unknown to the world, agreeably to that divine precept of our LORD, which says, “But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth;” Oh how often, often, often, have they dried up the tears of the Widow and the Orphan; while the aged, the afflicted, the sick, and the dying, to whom they have administered comfort and consolation, have blessed them. To behold themselves stopped short in their labours of love, pungently adds to their calamity. Their loss is indeed the greater, as it will cause the tears of the Orphan, the Widow, and the Desolate, to flow, which it was their greatest pleasure to assuage.

It is indeed a public calamity!

It is believed that the fire originated from one of the chimneys in the Ball-room below, which bursted, after the company had assembled.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania--1907

Lodge, No. 59, had assembled up-stairs, it being their stated night, and had barely time to make their escape, so rapid was the progress of the flames. The elegant Steeple, which ornamented the building, when half-consumed, broke in two, and fell on the roof, without damaging the adjacent buildings.

We feel overwhelmed by the present calamity, which we are sure will be felt by all good men.

Philadelphia, Thursday Morning, March 11, 1819.

MASONIC NOTICE.

Philadelphia, March 11th, 1819.

All Masonic Brethren residing in the City and County of Philadelphia, are requested to meet at the Washington Hall, this morning, (Thursday,) at 10 o'clock.

By order of the R. W. Grand Master,

GEORGE A. BAKER,
Grand Secretary.

Philadelphia, Friday Morning, March 12, 1819.

The assemblage of Masons yesterday, at the Washington Hall, was very numerous; much more so indeed than the most sanguine expectations could have anticipated, considering the shortness of the notice, and the inclemency of the day. Brother the Rev. Dr. Rogers, Grand Chaplain, opened the meeting by a most impressive Prayer to the Throne of Grace, in which the crowd of Brethren present appeared to join with heart-felt devotion. He was followed by Brother Saml. F. Bradford, Past Grand Master, who, in a strain of eloquence, not often equalled, took a retrospect of the past, and, pointing to the future, urged the Brethren not to weary in well-doing, but to persevere to the end. The heart of every Mason present, responded to the voice—and “ONWARDS, ONWARDS, ONWARDS,” with Faith, and Hope, and Charity, to guide our steps, was the solemn determination of every faithful Brother.

A Public Calamity

MASONIC MEETING.

At a general meeting of the Masons residing in the City and County of Philadelphia, held in pursuance of public notice, at the Washington Hall, in the City of Philadelphia, on Thursday, the 11th March, 1819, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. The Grand Master being prevented by indisposition from attending, and the Deputy Grand Master being absent from the City, the Senior Grand Warden,

THOMAS ELLIOTT, Esq. (as Grand Master) presided, and

GEORGE A. BAKER, (the Grand Secretary) acted as Secretary.

The meeting was opened with prayer, by the Rev. Dr. William Rogers, Grand Chaplain.

The Chairman stated, that the Hall of the Grand Lodge, having been consumed by fire, on the evening of the 9th instant, a meeting of the Masonic Brethren residing within the city and county of Philadelphia, had been convened this day, for the purpose of devising means to increase the funds of the Grand Lodge, to enable them to rebuild their edifice.

Past Grand Master Samuel F. Bradford, delivered an elegant and appropriate address to the Brethren on the occasion which had collected them together, and offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, to wit:

Resolved, That a subscription be now opened for the purpose of raising the funds of the Grand Lodge, to enable them to construct a suitable edifice, in which to hold the meetings of the Grand and Subordinate Lodges.

Resolved, That the R. W. Grand Master appoint a Committee, to consist of three members from each Lodge, meeting in the City and County of Philadelphia, for the purpose of collecting subscriptions from Masons, for the rebuilding of the Masonic Hall; that the Committee so appointed, be desired immediately to meet and proceed at once to accomplish the object entrusted to them, and to pay over the monies collected to the Grand Treasurer: and that the said Committee be authorized to receive such contributions, as our benevolent Fellow Citizens, who are not Masons, may think proper to make.

The following Brethren were then appointed a Committee for the above purpose:

Lodge No. 2. Joseph Burden, Dr. John Sommer, Anthony Lafitte.

3. Robert De Silver, Solomon Allen, William M' Corkle.
9. William Wray, John Wilson, Patrick M' Guigan.
19. Richard Mackey, Samuel Beatty, James Maxwell.
51. Joseph T. Clement, Frederick V. Krug, James M' Alpin.
52. John Thomas, Benjamin Molineaux, George W. Jones.
59. James Forsyth, Thomas M'Lean, George Curry.
67. William Weaver, Andrew Hooten, Samuel Webb.
71. John Darragh, Charles Schnider, Giles M' Dowell.
72. Joseph Blame, Jacob Alter, George Burgen.
73. P. R. Branu, Destouet Follin, — Laussar.
91. Henry G. Freeman, Daniel L. Peck, John Thompson.
102. Mahlon Dungan, Thomas W. Duffield, Samuel Denny.
114. Henry Benner, James Harper, jr. Peter Benner.
115. Thomas Burrows, Henry Stiles, Nicholas Tillinghast.
121. Robert Toland, George Morrison, Isaac Levis.
125. Charles W. Westphall, William Mayweg, Henry Riesch.
126. Benjamin Sharpnack, John C. Tillinghast, Samuel Durborrow.
127. Israel Young, George Dannaker, Francis Savoy.

128. John Smith, Stacy Fowler, John Jones.

130. Henry Horn, Peter Perpignan, George Gloninger.

131. Alphonso C. Ireland, Cornelius Stevenson, Anthony Fannen.

134. Jacob Meehlin, Benj. R. Vanhook, Peter Williamson.

139. Christopher Kreible, David H. Mason, James Redman.

155. William Mandry, Isaac Avery, Levi Anker.

158. John D. Ferguson, Alva Mason, John W. Kelly.

160. Charles A. Droz, Peter Bouneuill, Ylair F. Deluy.

Resolved, That the Brethren now assembled, will individually exert themselves in promoting the object contained in the foregoing resolutions.

A letter addressed to the Grand Master, was received and read, from Brother Victor Pepin, Manager of the Olympic Theatre, offering to appropriate, towards rebuilding the Masonic Hall, the proceeds of a benefit to take place at the said Theatre, on Monday next. When, on motion, Resolved, That the offer of Brother Victor Pepin be accepted, and that the thanks of this meeting be presented to him for his very liberal and benevolent offer.

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting be presented to Robert Wharton, Esquire, Vice-President of the Washington Benevolent Society, and the Hall Committee, for their politeness in offering the Grand Saloon, and other rooms of the Hall, for the accommodation of the present meeting.

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting be presented to the different fire and hose companies, and to our fellow-citizens generally, for the promptitude with which they repaired to our assistance, on the night of the conflagration.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published.

THOMAS ELLIOTT, Chairman.

GEORGE A. BAKER, Secretary.

At a meeting of the Grand Officers, held in the afternoon of the 11th March, 1819.

A letter from Messrs. Warren and Wood, Managers of the Philadelphia Theatre, addressed to the Grand Master, was received, containing an offer to give a benefit, the proceeds of which should be appropriated to aid the funds of the Grand Lodge in rebuilding their Hall. Which offer was accepted, and it was ordered that the thanks of the Grand Officers be respectfully returned to Messrs. Warren and Wood, on behalf of the Grand Lodge, for their kind and affectionate attention.

GEORGE A. BAKER,
Grand Secretary.

Meeting of the Trustees of the Masonic Loans, March 11, 1819.

At a meeting of the Trustees of the Masonic Loans, this day convened in consequence of the recent calamitous destruction of the Grand Lodge—Present, Charles Biddle, Edward Burd, Stephen Girard, Thomas M'Euen, and the Grand Officers.

The meeting, with a view to relieve any anxiety entertained by the holders of the stock of the Masonic Loans, resolved to publish the following statement, viz.

The amount of the Loan is	$66,000
Towards the payment of which, is the Sinking Fund, amounting to	$15,088
The sum insured on the Lodge,	$20,000

And the lot on Chestnut-street, with the remains of the building, which are estimated to be more than equal to the balance.

It is believed that the sum insured on the Lodge, aided by such collections as may be obtained from the Masonic family, and others, will be sufficient to re-construct the building in its former elegance, and that the present resources of the

Grand Lodge are such as will insure a continuance of their usual punctual discharge of the interest.

CHARLES BIDDLE, President.

GEORGE A. BAKER, Secretary.

So great was the interest taken by the general public in this great calamity which overtook the Brethren, that a large painting was at once made of the scene upon the fateful night, for the purpose of having an engraving made of the conflagration.

The blazing hall, adjoining buildings and background was painted by Samuel Jones, a local artist, while the figures and mise-en-scene were painted in by J. L. Krimmell, a noted figure painter, then living in Philadelphia. This picture not only gives some idea of the commotion and excitement at the time, but also shows the different type of costumes worn by both the citizen and Volunteer Firemen of the day. The different fire engines in action throwing the gallery stream upon the burning building are faithfully portrayed; even the names of several of the fire Companies on the hats, such as Dilligent, Hand-in-hand, Hibernia and Harmony, can be made out. One of the most interesting figures in the group is the Secretary, Nicholas O'Connor of Washington Lodge, No. 59, carrying out some of the properties of the Lodge; prominent among which is the Bible in his arm and the large brass key of the Hall in his hand.

As soon as this painting was finished, it was turned over to J. Hill, who engraved the scene upon a copper plate, measuring $21\frac{1}{4}' \times 17\frac{1}{4}'$ inches; so rapidly did he work that the plate was finished in a little over two months time. The prints were published by Kennedy and West at No. 72 (old number) Chestnut Street.

The plate was dedicated by the publishers to the Volunteer Fire and Hose Companies.

In the archives of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania there are several original impressions from this plate.

It will not be amiss at this time to give a short contemporary description of this building, which at that time was said to be the "Most beautiful Masonick Temple erected since the days of Solomon." viz:—

The design was adopted by the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, Nov. 21, A. D. 1808, and the foundation stone laid in masonick form in the northeast corner of the building on the 17th of April, 1809, at 8 O'clock in the morning.

The building measures in front from east to west 82 feet, and in breath from north to south 69. It stands from the portae or gateways (which are immediately upon the line of the street) 50 feet, a distance calculated to exhibit its general effect at one view.

The brick work in front is supported by buttresses of parti-coloured marble, enriched with niches for statues, which are capped by triangular pinnacles, and connected together by an embattled parapet, coped with marble.

The principal entrance into the hall is by a large and elegant flight of steps, occupying the whole space between the two centre buttresses; through a door-way with raised panels of curled maple, the jambs splayed and ornamented with clustered reeds, over which is a circular window 4 feet in diameter, enriched with tracery which admits light to the vestibule. The frontispiece on either side of the door is composed of columns and wainscoting supporting triangular pinnacles ornamented with tracery.

A Public Calamity

The windows on each side of the centre buttresses are divided by mullions into three compartments, which divaricate from the springing, and terminate in the crown of the arch.

The part of the front between two centre buttresses, being rough cast, and the most ornamented part of the building, gives the brick work on either side the effect of wings (although upon the same plane) which breaks the line of sameness, and produces a beautiful contrast.

The steeple is built of wood in stories, and rises out of the roof in the centre of the building; its whole height from the ground being 180 feet. The first story is 20 feet square, with clustered columns on the corners, surmounted by a cornice and embattled parapet.

The second story is 14 feet square with one column upon each corner, also surmounted by a cornice and embattled parapet, ornamented with niches and windows on all sides. Within the battlements of this story, springs an octagonal spire, capped by a ball, cardinal points, square, and compasses, &c.

The building was designed by Brother William Strickland, architect, and executed by Brother John Darrah, master builder, under the immediate direction of the following brethren, composing a building committee, viz:—George A. Baker, P. Le Barbier Duplessis, Richard Tybout, Thomas Passmore.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

After the destruction of the hall by fire on the night of March 9, 1819, the Brethren at once sought another meeting place, so that the meetings of the Grand Lodge and the various subordinate lodges could be held upon their regular stated nights. The Washington Benevolent Society at once offered the use of their hall to the Grand Lodge. The offer was accepted and, as before stated, the preliminary meetings were there held towards arrangements for rebuilding the destroyed hall.

On the morning succeeding the destruction of the Masonic Hall the members of the Hall Committee repaired to the spot, and in the performance of their duty secured and put into a place of safe deposit, all the effects they could obtain of any value; then, agreeably to the order of the R. W. Grand Master, they immediately went in search of a suitable place in which the Grand and Subordinate Lodges might hold their future meetings; and of the many situations viewed none appeared so eligible, convenient or reasonable as to terms as "the Old Masonic Hall," the Old Lodge room of which they have obtained.

In their report the Hall Committee state that the committee likewise obtained a lease, and for the same purposes, the Old Banqueting and Royal Arch Rooms. And that, agreeably to the order received from the R. W. G. M., the committee appointed "Suitable persons to survey and report on the New Hall, &c., whose report thereon is herewith presented."

A Public Calamity

The Documents stating the terms on which the Grand Lodge hold their present tenure, as also the Vouchers for sundry disbursements made and the Lease of John Snyder, securing quiet possession of the premises, in whole or in part, for one or more years, Your Committee are not at present able to present, having been almost without intermission engaged in the performance of other important and pressing duties growing out of the late serious calamity. They will, however, soon be enabled to report at length on the foregoing subjects.

And as in purchasing the lease of this room from Doctor Rousseau it was Stipulated that he should be reimbursed the sum of Three Hundred Dollars expended by him, (including One Hundred and twenty five dollars being Six Months rent he had paid in advance) the Committee respectfully request that the R. W. Grand Lodge will direct the same to be paid to Doc. Rousseau on the full and complete Assignment to the G. Lodge of his right and title to this room, for the time being. They beg leave also to suggest that all of that part of the property which has been or may be saved from the ruins, which may prove to be so materially injured by fire as to be of no use in this, or in the construction of the New Hall, be sold at Public Auction.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Phila., March 16, A. L. 5819.

Which Report was adopted.

Thus on the evening of Tuesday, March 16, the Grand Lodge assembled in a Grand Special Communication in their former home on Filbert Street.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

The next Stated Meeting of Lodge No. 2 was held Monday evening, April 12, 1819, in the hall on the south side of Filbert Street, west of Eighth Street, which had been abandoned by the Grand Lodge in 1811, when the Chestnut Street Hall was completed and dedicated.

After the destruction of the Hall by fire, a period of depression set in, when the number of active members of Lodge No. 2 dwindled down to ten or twelve and the funds of the Lodge were not sufficient for its maintenance. It was in this emergency when a number of brethren, principally from Lodge No. 67, came to the rescue, and by their labor and example restored the oldest Lodge in the Jurisdiction once more to a state of vigor and prosperity.¹

1820—MASONIC HALL—1836
AS REBUILT AFTER THE FIRE.

CHAPTER XXIV

THE MASONIC HALL OF 1820

1819-1820

SO rapidly had the work of rebuilding the Hall progressed under the direction of the building committee, that it was ready for occupancy in the fall of 1820, and was rededicated Wednesday, November 1, 1820; just twenty months after the fateful March night of the previous year.

The Committee met for the first time on the 18th of March, and having named their Chairman, appointed George A. Baker to be their Secretary, at such compensation as should be fixed by the Committee after they had learned by experience the duties he would have to perform, and which at the expiration of three Months was fixed at One hundred and fifty dollars per Annum.

The Committee at their first meeting also directed that the remaining part of the Hall should be cleared of the rubbish and the Iron, &c., taken care of under the direction of Brother John Nisbet, who had been previously put in charge of the premises by the R. W. Grand Master.

The Committee then proceeded to invite in the public papers, and plans for reconstructing the Hall, with an offer of

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

One hundred dollars for such plan as should be approved. A number of plans were accordingly submitted, none of which exactly suited the views of the Committee, who finally agreed to one formed from those which were submitted, and then invited the Grand Officers and past Grand Masters to consider the same, who after several meetings and suggesting alterations, finally on the 15th April approved of the following, viz:

That the exterior Walls of the Masonic Hall shall not be taken down.

That in the plan to be adopted for the reconstruction of the Hall, no preparation shall be made for laying the foundation of a spire.

That the internal work of the Hall shall be finished in a neat, plain manner.

That the arrangement of the rooms in the lower story shall be the same as before.

That the arrangement of the rooms in the second story shall be the same as before, except that the Grand Lodge room shall be square instead of circular as before, and that the refreshing room shall be made into a Lodge room.

That the brick work in the front wall shall be rough cast.

That an additional building suitable for the purposes of refreshments shall be erected in the rear of the Hall running North with the Western line of the same.

That the roof of the Hall and of the additional building shall be slated.

Immediately after this Meeting the Committee proceeded to consider the best mode of going on with the work, and determined not to have it done by contract, but to employ a superintendent who should devote his whole time to the business, to keep the accounts of all the work done, to hire and pay hands, and as far as practicable to procure the work to be done by the piece. The Committee fixed his compensation at four Dollars per day, and subsequently appointed Samuel Webb, superintendent, who has discharged the duties to the satisfaction of the Committee.

The Committee in their report to the Grand Lodge state that they determined at an early period to employ Brethren only to do the different work where it could be done without injury to the interest of the Grand Lodge, which has always been the object of their primary attention.

In all instances where possible, the Committee have invited proposals for doing the different parts, and have selected those which under all circumstances they consider best.

Some alterations in the plan of the building in the rear of the Hall having been suggested to the Committee, the Grand Officers and Past Grand Masters were desired to consider them, who on the 10th May approved of the plan, which will be more fully explained by the accompanying drafts.

The Committee have considered it their duty to prepare plans for those who were to decide on them, and to carry into effect what was directed by the Grand Officers and Past Grand Masters, tho' differing in some points from their own views of the subject.

The Committee beg leave to refer to their Minute Book to show their proceedings, the persons who they have employed, and the contracts they have made, which have been all for Cash, so as to obtain the greatest possible advantage.

The superintendent has prepared an estimate of the sum required to complete the building which is herewith submitted.

The Committee regret to say that the payments made to them on account of the subscriptions to rebuild the Hall are very trifling and they think some plan should be devised to hasten the collection, which will be a saving to the Grand Lodge in the losses which delay would naturally beget, and also require less frequent drafts on the Insurance Company, where the Money is drawing interest. All which is respectfully submitted.

This report was ordered to be laid on the table.

The estimate accompanying the said report was also read, and is as follows to wit:

At the request of the Building Committee I have made an estimate of the cost of reconstructing the Masonic Hall in Chestnut Street, and of the additional building to the North thereof, and am of the opinion the same will amount to thirty eight thousand nine hundred and eighty four dollars.

Efforts were made in the meantime by the Grand Officers towards a plan for renting out parts of the rebuilt hall. At the adjourned Quarterly Communication held November 1, 1819, the following report was read.

The Grand Officers to whom was referred the application of Victor Guillou to rent certain parts of the Hall made report, which was read and is as follows, to wit:

The Grand Officers to whom was referred the application from Victor Guillon for renting certain rooms in the New Hall,

The Masonic Hall of 1820

Respectfully Report,

That they have taken the subject into consideration, and are of opinion that it is adviseable to let such parts of the New Hall as will not be required for Masonic purposes as speedily as possible after the rooms shall be respectively completed.

That it is the duty of the Grand Lodge in its present circumstances to procure the best rent for them that can be obtained, and that in their opinion a greater rent can be obtained for some of them by renting them for balls than for any other purpose. They therefore recommend that they be let for that purpose, and respectfully submit the subjoined resolutions for approbation and adoption.

1. Resolved, that a Committee of five be appointed who shall have power to rent such of the rooms in the New Hall as shall not be required for Masonic purposes so soon as the same shall be respectively completed.

2. Resolved, that the said Committee be authorized to let such of the rooms as they may deem expedient for Ball rooms.

Which report and resolutions were adopted.

Efforts were also made to release the Hall from local taxation as shown by the following resolution.

On Motion, Resolved, that the R. W. Grand Master

be hereby authorized to appoint a Committee on behalf of the R. W. Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, to apply and endeavour to procure from the General Assembly of Pennsylvania an exoneration of the Lot and Masonic Hall in Chestnut Street now rebuilding, from all taxes or assessments for the term of 20 years, or such other period as they in their discretion may deem right and expedient, in consequence of the heavy loss sustained by the late awful and destructive conflagration.

The R. W. Grand Master was pleased to appoint the Grand Officers together with the following Brethren a Committee for the above purpose, Viz: Edward Burd, Thomas M^cEuen, Richard Bache, Jacob Holgate, Richard Tybout, James Harper, jun^r, William Delany, Peter A. Browne, Joseph Worrell, George M. Dallas, Thomas Kittera, Samuel Badger and James N. Barker.

At the Adjourned Quarterly Communication held December 20, 1819.

The Chairman of the Building Committee stated that he was instructed by that Committee to mention the case of a Carpenter of the name Hugh Pugh, (not a Mason), who had been materially injured by a fall from a Scaffold in October last, whilst engaged in reconstructing the Masonic Hall, that he was so much injured thereby as to be unfit for labor, and probably would remain so for some months, with a Wife and several Children, and recommending some relief, and at the same time offered the following Resolution, Viz:

Resolved, that the Building Committee be authorized to grant relief to Hugh Pugh at their discretion, not exceeding the sum of Fifty Dollars.

The Masonic Hall of 1820

As the work of rebuilding the New Hall progressed, the question of lighting the building was taken up and at an Adjourned Quarterly Communication held February 7, 1820,

On Motion made and Seconded,

Resolved, that the R. W. Grand Master be desired to appoint a Committee consisting of five Members for the purpose of considering the expediency of lighting the New Hall with Gas lights and to report to Grand Lodge at the Quarterly Communication in March, with estimates of the expense attending its introduction, together with estimates of the annual expense of Candles, Oil and Gas.

The R. W. Grand Master appointed Brothers James McAlpin, Armon Davis, Robert Toland, Peter Benner and Benjamin Say a Committee for the purposes contained in the foregoing resolution.

At the Grand Quarterly Communication March 6, 1820:

The Committee appointed to enquire into the expediency of lighting the New Hall with Gas made report which was read and is as follows, to wit:

To the R. W. Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania:

The Committee appointed to enquire into the expediency of lighting the New Hall with Gas,

1730 — Freemasonry in Pennsylvania — 1907

Report,

That the importance of the subject has induced them to investigate it with care and attention and the result is a perfect conviction in the minds of your Committee that Gas is decidedly preferable to any other mode of lighting the building.

The accompanying estimates and calculations are founded upon facts derived from experiments personally made by your Committee and from official sources, and aware that they generally fall far short of the absolute cost of Improvements, we have endeavoured to avoid misleading the Grand Lodge by extravagant calculation and believe the estimate for the Gas apparatus will be found more than sufficient for its erection.

Some objection may exist to the Gas on Account of the smell which is said to be produced in its making. This is true in regard to Gas produced from Coal, but gas produced from Tar, altho' the oil has a peculiar smell, is not very unpleasant, and if the apparatus is placed in the yard no person will be incommoded by it, nor can it be noticed inside of the Hall.

The Gas produces a much more pleasant light to the Eye, than the light from Oil or Candles, it possesses a great advantage in point of cleanliness, is much more safe, it produces no smoke, and there is no waste.

The Cost of Gas is not considerable after the apparatus is erected, and it is probable it can be disposed of to different establishments on moderate terms and with great advantage to the Grand Lodge.

The saving to be made by the use of Gas it will be perceived by the annexed calculation is $826.62 Annually; there are also several small incidental expenses accompanying the use of Oil and Candles which have not been noticed; the most important are, the repairs of lamps, the unavoidable breakage of Lamp Glasses, and the expense of Lamp Wicks. All which it is presumed would be little less than $100 per Annum.

Introduction of Gas Lights

We have no hesitation in strongly recommending the introduction of Gas into the New Hall.

Respectfully offering for your adoption the following resolution, we request our discharge.

Resolved, that a Committee be appointed to erect an apparatus for supplying the New Hall with Carburetted Hydrogen Gas to be made from Tar.

On Motion the said report was adopted.

On Motion made and seconded,

Resolved, that the building Committee with the addition of Bro. Say be a committee to carry the Resolution relative to the lighting of the New Hall with Gas into effect.

On Motion, it was further resolved, that the Committee appointed to erect an apparatus for supplying the Hall with Gas be authorized to contract with the Tenants who occupy the Hall for the use of the Gas.

At the Adjourned Grand Quarterly Communication held Monday May 1, 1820, On Motion made and Seconded, it was Resolved, that the Building Committee be requested to lay before the Grand Lodge at its next meeting a statement containing the amount actually expended by them and the probable sums yet to be expended respectively in the rebuilding the Hall, the erection of the rear buildings and the gas light apparatus, the funds belonging to the sinking fund that have been appropriated to any of these objects, the probable amount required to be borrowed on Loan, the amount collected by subscriptions and the amount yet due thereon, together with any other information necessary to a correct knowledge of the present state of the funds of the Grand Lodge.

On Motion, Resolved, that the R. W. Grand Master be authorized to place the surplus funds of the Grand Lodge at the disposal of the building Committee.

The following resolution was offered and laid on the Table:

Resolved, that the resolutions relative to the Masonic Procession and Banquet be reconsidered.

On Motion made and Seconded,

Resolved, that the procession shall be without expense to the Grand Lodge, that the expense shall be defrayed by a sum to be paid by each person walking in procession, and if any overplus shall remain that the same shall be placed in the funds of the Grand Lodge.

On Motion made and Seconded,

Resolved, that each person walking in procession shall pay the sum of One Dollar and fifty Cents for the purpose aforesaid.

It was also Resolved that the Building Committee be and they are hereby authorized to take measures for obtaining on Loans any sum not exceeding twenty thousand Dollars, and that the sum raised be paid over to the Committee appointed by resolution of the Grand Lodge on the 21st June last.

On Motion made and Seconded,

Resolved, that the Grand Master appoint a Committee of Five, who together with the Committee on Gas lights, shall be a Committee for the purpose of procuring appropriate furniture for the respective rooms of the New Hall.

The R. W. Grand Master was pleased to appoint the following Brethren a Committee for the above purpose, viz: James M^cAlpin, Robert Toland, Anthony Fannen, Henry Y. Carter and Armon Davis.

On Motion, Resolved, that the Grand Secretary give special notice that at the next Adjourned meeting to be held on the First Monday in July, the resolution relative to the Masonic Procession and Banquet on the dedication of the Hall be reconsidered.

At the General Grand Communication held June 24, 1820,

An extract from the Minutes of the Building Committee of the 28th June last was received and read and is as follows, to wit:

On Motion, Resolved, that the Building Committee are of Opinion, that it is inexpedient for them to undertake to negotiate a Loan to complete the Masonic Hall, and that the

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

Grand Lodge be requested to appoint another Committee to perform that duty. Whereupon,

On Motion, Resolved, that the Building Committee be excused from acting as a Committee to procure a Loan.

On Motion, Resolved, that the Grand Master be authorized to appoint a Committee of Five to negotiate the Loan authorized by the resolution of the Grand Lodge of the 5th June last.

At the General Grand Quarterly Communication held September 4, 1820:

The Committee appointed to procure on loan the sum of twenty thousand Dollars for the purpose of completing the Masonic Hall made report of the proposals offered by them which were read and are as follows, viz:

The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania are willing to make a loan of twenty thousand Dollars for the purpose of finishing the New Hall in Chestnut Street.

They propose as Security:

First. A Mortgage to the Trustees of the Masonic Loans of the whole of the Property on Chestnut Street, extending to Lodge Alley, in trust for the Subscribers to the loan, subject to the Mortgages given to the said Trustees for the prior Loans, amounting to 65,000 Dollars, towards the payment of which the sinking fund already amounts to nearly 17,000 dollars; the income of the Grand Lodge will, it is believed, enable them to make an addition thereto of 5000 dollars per Annum.

Second. A permanent insurance on the whole of the property to the Amount of 30,000 Dollars.

Third. The faith of the Grand Lodge for the faithful payment of the principal and interest half yearly, and the appropriation of the whole of its income, (after payment of the interest of the loans, taxes, and other incidental expenses,) to the sinking fund until the total extinction of its debts.

Fourth. The loan not to be redeemed without the consent of the holder, before the year 1840.

Fifth. One half the Amount subscribed, to be paid at the time of the Subscription, (or the whole at the option of the subscribers,) and the remainder within two Months, on failure of which, the first payment to be forfeited.

Sixth. Certificates transferable, to be issued in sums of One hundred Dollars each, payable with interest half yearly, at the rate of six per Cent per Annum.

Whereupon, on Motion made and Seconded,

1730 — Freemasonry in Pennsylvania — 1907

Resolved, that the Trustees of the Masonic Hall be requested, and they are hereby authorized to execute a Mortgage upon all the property of the Grand Lodge, in Chestnut Street and Lodge Alley to the Trustees of the Masonic Loans, as security for the subscribers to the new Loan of twenty thousand dollars, authorized by a Vote of the Grand Lodge on the fifth day of June last.

At the Adjourned Grand Quarterly Communication held October 16, 1820, it was Resolved, that the several Committees who have been concerned in the erection and furnishing the New Hall, as well as preparing the materials of the procession, be required to furnish a statement of their expenditures as far as they have the means at the next Grand Communication.

While the hall was being rebuilt, the question arose as to the lighting of the various rooms used for lodge and renting purposes. It appears that it had cost the large sum of $1,800 per year to light the old hall with oil lamps and candles, so it was urged to install an apparatus to make hydrogen gas from tar, which it was stated would reduce the cost of lighting of the new hall a thousand dollars a year.

The plan was adopted and a "Gas Committee" was appointed. The original Minutes of the Committee is still in the Archives of the Grand Lodge. As this was the first permanent introduction of gas in the city of Philadelphia, the following extract from the original Minute Book will prove of interest.

Introduction of Gas Lights

Extract from the Minutes of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania of the 6th March, 1820.

“Resolved that a Committee be appointed to erect an apparatus for supplying the New Hall with Carburetta Hydrogen Gas to be made from Tar.

“On motion made and seconded,

“Resolved that the building Committee with the addition of Brother Benjamin Say be a committee to carry the resolution relative to the Lighting of the New Hall with Gas into effect.”

The Building Committee is composed of Brothers Joseph S. Lewis, Richard Tybout, James Harpeyius, Joseph Burden and Cornelius Stevenson.

The above Committee met at the Hall of the Grand Lodge in Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, on Friday March 10th, 1820, at half past 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Present Joseph Burden, Chairman, P. T.
James Harper, Junr.
Cornelius Stevenson,
Benjamin Say.

Resolved that Bro. Joseph S. Lewis, Chairman of the building Committee be the chairman of this Committee and George A. Baker, Secretary of the building Committee act as Secretary of this Committee.

Resolved that Brothers Say and Harper be a Committee to procure the pipes and apparatus necessary for the introduction of the Gas into the Hall.

Resolved that Brothers Lewis and Stevenson be a

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

Committee to enquire whether any ground in the neighborhood of the Hall can be purchased to erect the gasometers on, and the terms on which it can be had.

Resolved that the stated meetings of the Committee shall be held every Wednesday afternoon at half past 3 o'clock at the New Hall.

Friday, March 17, 1820.—Committee met at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Present Joseph S. Lewis, Chairman,
James Harpeyius,
Cornelius Stevenson,
Benjamin Say.

On Motion Brothers Say and Webb were requested to measure and lay off the ground for the building of the apparatus for the Gas Lights.

Wednesday, March 22, 1820.—Committee met at half past 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

An Extract from the Minutes of the Grand Lodge of the 20th instant was received and read whereby it appeared that the following Resolution was passed.

“On motion Resolved, that the Committee appointed to erect an apparatus for supplying the New Hall with Gas, be authorized to contract with the Tenants who occupy the Hall, for the use of the Gas.”

On Motion resolved, that the building to be erected to contain the Gasometers, shall be built flush with the gate on the North end of the lot, and at the distance of eighteen feet from the North Wall of the Old Building, that the roof be flat and covered with metal and that the foundation shall not exceed Sixteen feet in depth.

Introduction of Gas Lights

On Motion Resolved that the Gasometers be made of sheet iron.

On Motion, Resolved that Brothers Lewis and Say be authorized to contract with Guillou for the use of the Gas Lights.

On Motion, Resolved, that the superintendent be authorized to ascertain at what rate the brick work of the building to contain the Gasometers can be done.

The Committee appointed to procure pipes &c. reported that they had purchased a box of cut glass for Chandeliers, containing forty-eight thousand pieces, for the sum of Five Hundred Dollars.

Wednesday, March 29, 1820.—Committee met at half past 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Proposals for doing the bricklayers work to the buildings to contain the Gasometers were received and read.

John Cromwell's proposal to lay the bricks by the thousand was accepted and the Secretary directed to draw a Contract for him to sign.

W. Harper stated that William Alexander would engage to dig the cellar for twenty five cents per cubic yard, whereupon it was resolved to employ him.

Wednesday, April 5, 1820.—Committee met at half past 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

On Motion, the plan of the Cisterns submitted by Mr. Cromwell was adopted and the Secretary was directed to add to the Contract of M. Cromwell a Covenant to warrant that the said Cisterns shall be water proof.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

The Committee appointed to confer with Mr. Guillou stated that he was willing to enter into a contract to take the Gas and Pay for it at the same rate he would pay for lighting his rooms with oil and candles.

On Motion, Brothers Lewis and Say were appointed to confer with Mr. Simmons and were authorized if they thought proper to agree with him for his assistance in fixing up the Gas apparatus.

Proposals for painting the building to be erected to contain the Gas Apparatus were received and read.

Account was presented from Ravisies and Malson amounting to Five Hundred Dollars for 48,000 Glass Drops, purchased of them, for which the Committee of Accounts were directed to draw an order.

On Motion Brothers Lewis and Harper were appointed a Committee to devise a plan, to be submitted to the Grand Lodge, for raising a sum of Money for the purpose of constructing the Gas Apparatus and for completing the Masonic Hall.

Wednesday, April 12, 1820.—Committee met at half past 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Grand Officers attended the meeting of the Committee.

A letter from a number of citizens residing in the neighbourhood of the Hall was received and read, objecting to the erection of the Gas Apparatus chiefly on account of the danger to the neighbourhood in case of explosion; and of the offensive odour arising from the Gas.

Introduction of Gas Lights

After having the Letter under consideration for sometime it was determined that the work should be proceeded with, and that letter should be referred to the Gas Committee to answer.¹

The Grand Officers then withdrew.

On Motion Brothers Say and Lewis were appointed a Committee to reply to the above Letter.

Proposals were received and read.

Bro. Lewis stated that upon counting the Glass Drops the box was found to contain but 47,000 pieces and that a deduction of Ten Dollars & 41 cents, was made from the order of Messrs. Ravisies and Malsan for 1000 pieces which were wanting.

Wednesday, April 19, 1820.—On Motion, Resolved that Mr. Webb be requested to procure a permit for introducing the Water into the Cisterns from Lodge Alley and that the pipe be laid immediately.

The Committee appointed to procure pipes &c., Reported that they had accepted the proposals of Frederick W. Walter to make the Gasometers and that he had executed a contract to make the same.

The Committee appointed to reply to the letter from the Neighbours objecting to the erection of the Gas Apparatus reported an answer which was read and approved of.

On Motion Resolved that the Committee to procure pipes &c., be directed to have pipes fixed in the bottom of the Cisterns to carry off the water into the well.

A Special Meeting of the Committee was held on Monday the 24th April, 1820.

It was stated from the chair that this meeting was called in consequence of the small building in the north-east corner of the lot having fell into the cellar dug for the tanks of the gasometers.

In consequence of this some alterations were made in the plan for the building of the gas apparatus and the superintendent directed to proceed accordingly.

Resolved that in order to prevent a recurrence of the accident which called the Committee together the building for the Gas house be under the direction of the Superintendent and that all persons employed about the same take their instructions accordingly.

Wednesday, May 3, 1820.—Mr. Webb reported that agreeably to the directions of the Committee he had procured a permit for introducing the Water from Lodge Alley but afterwards discovered that the public had no log laid in the alley. Whereupon he was directed to return the permit and receive the money he had paid for it.

Brothers Harper and Say were appointed a Committee to confer with Frederick Graff and Thomas Clark on the subject of the Cisterns.

Wednesday, May 10, 1820.—On Motion Resolved, that Brothers Harper and Say be appointed a Committee to go to Baltimore to procure information respecting the Gas.

Introduction of Gas Lights

Wednesday, June 7, 1820.—A copy of a resolution passed by the Grand Lodge on the 5th instant, was received and read and is as follows, to wit:

Resolved that the Grand Master appoint a Committee of Five who together with the Committee on Gas Lights shall be a committee for the purpose of procuring appropriate furniture for the respective Rooms of the New Hall.

The R. W. Grand Master was pleased to appoint the following Brethren a Committee for the above purpose, viz.: James M'Alpin, Robert Toland, Anthony Faunen, Henry Y. Carter and Armon Davis.

On Motion Resolved that the said Committee be notified to meet the Gas Committee on Wednesday next at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Saturday, June 24, 1820.—The Sub-Committee submitted sundry plans for Chandeliers when they were requested to proceed in having them made according to said plans or such others as they may see proper to adopt.

Friday, October 6, 1820.—An Account was presented from William Young amounting to twelve Dollars for wiring glass drops which Mr. Webb was directed to pay.

Wednesday, October 18, 1820.—A Letter was received and read from Thomas Smith Simmons requesting that the Hall might be lit with the gas and thrown open one night previous to its application to masonic purposes for his benefit as a part of the compensation for his services.

Friday, October 20, 1820.—Resolved that the person to be appointed to manufacture the Gas shall receive as a compensation for his services, Six Dollars per week. Bro. William Adams was appointed.

November 18, 1820.—The object of this meeting being to consider of the most efficient means of stopping the leak in the Cistern, various plans were suggested and considered and after mature deliberation the Committee concluded to adjourn to meet at Thomas Morris's Brewery to view a cistern lately built there on Monday morning next at 9 o'clock.

Wednesday, November 22, 1820.—An Account was presented from T. & Z. Borhurst amounting to One Thousand Six Hundred & Eighty-one dollars and 37 cts. for Chandeliers.

Tuesday, December 12, 1820.—Bro. Say stated that he had requested the superintendent to call a special meeting of the Committee in consequence of an application he had received from Mr. Guillou to have his apartments lit with Gas on the Evenings of the 16th 19th and 21st instant. The Committee after deliberation Resolved that the Grand Officers should be requested to attend the meeting of the Committee to-morrow afternoon for the purpose of taking into consideration the application of Mr. Guillou.

Wednesday, December 13, 1820.—The following Grand Officers attended the Meeting of the Committee, viz.: Bayse Newcomb, Thomas Elliott, William McCaskle and George A. Baker.

Introduction of Gas Lights

Brother Newcomb, Grand Master, took the Chair.

The application of Mr. Guillou was taken up for consideration and on motion made and seconded; it was resolved that the sub-committee appointed in march last to contract with M. Guillou for the use of the gas be directed to inform him that the Committee are now ready to furnish him with gas upon the terms agreed on last March.

Monday, December 18, 1820.—A Special Meeting of the Committee was held at 3 o'clock P. M.

Present Joseph S. Lewis, Chairman,
Joseph Burden,
James Harper, Jr.
Cornelius Stevenson.

The Committee were called together in consequence of the injury sustained by the Gas House and Machinery by fire on the morning of the 17th instant.

The Committee after ascertaining the extent of the damage and the best and speediest means of repairing the same agreed to present the following address to the Grand Lodge this evening.

The Building Committee and the Gas Committee appointed under the authority of the R. W. G. Lodge to reconstruct the Masonic Hall so unhappily destroyed by fire on the 9th March 1819 and to procure Gas Lights for the same have the honor to report that they proceeded with the best of their talents to execute the work entrusted to them and that after a diligent attention to their duties, had so far completed them on the 4th Inst. when the Grand Lodge took possession of the premises as to see a termination of their labours and that very little remained to be done except to adjust and settle the accounts for the work contracted for.

The Committee beg leave further to report that by the desire of the R. W. G. Master they had accepted the duties of the Hall Committee until St. John's Day next, all of which trusts aforementioned they had contemplated to surrender on St. John's Day to the authority which created them with a request only to have their powers continued so as to complete a final settlement of their accounts.

A. Circumstance however, has occurred most painful in its nature which has called anew for their attention from the destruction of the Gas House by fire on the morning of Sunday the 17th instant, arising from causes inexplicable, as from the best information the Committee can obtain the Fires in the furnaces were extinguished at 5 o'clock on Saturday and the Superintendent saw all was safe at about 9 o'clock of the same evening, after which the building was closed.

This circumstance has required some attention on the part of the Committee and they have accordingly thought it their duty to direct the removal of the remnants of the roof and the preparation of a temporary means of supplying the House with Gas which can be done at a small expence and that a slight covering be erected over the Building which as soon as the season will permit, should be replaced by a permanent roof and the reconstruction of the masonry necessarily connected therewith accompanied with such alterations as experience may point out to be necessary for convenience and security.

The principal damage occasioned by the fire appears to be in the roof and the machinery connected with the Gasometers and also a small part of the upper portion of the walls injured by the falling in of the roof. The Gasometers, Pipes, Flues Cistern and main building are very little injured. The Committee believe they will be enabled by St. John's Day to make the necessary temporary arrangements before alluded to, after which there can be no doubt the Hall Committee to be appointed on that day will be fully able to make the permanent repairs, at the same time the Committee are not disposed to shrink from the completion of the work if the R. W. G. Lodge should require them to do so.

December 18, 1820.

JOSEPH S. LEWIS,
JOSEPH BURDEN,
JAMES HARPER,
CORNELIUS STEVENSON.

The Committee directed that the superintendent should cause the rubbish to be removed immediately from the Gas House and a girder to be put up near the South end thereof.

Mr. Lewis reported that he had seen Mr. Guillou on the subject of lighting the rooms occupied by him with gas and after a full conversation respecting it, Mr. Guillou said he would give One cent and a quarter per cubic foot for the Gas. Whereupon, on motion made and Seconded Resolved, that this Committee do not conceive the offer of Mr. Guillou to be in conformity with the original Contract, made with him, but being unwilling to take upon themselves to decide on it, do agree to refer the decision of it to three disinterested persons well skilled in the nature of Gas, and to appoint by each party and they to appoint a third.

Little is known about the interior and furnishings of the first Chestnut Street Hall. Some extracts from the minutes of the committee on furniture for the rebuilt hall of 1820 have lately been found in the archives from which we glean that the chief room in the hall was the salon or ball room, connecting with which was a dining room.

The salon was probably the most gorgeous hall in the city at that time. The eight large windows were curtained with the best scarlet moreen at a cost of $56 each. The settees and chairs were upholstered with the same material. The room was illuminated with chandeliers from which were pending several thousands of crystal drops; upon the side walls were mirrors in gilt frames which reflected the scintillations of the crystal drops. The room in cold weather was heated by a large stove of special design.

Furnishings of the Hall

The Grand Lodge room was also lit up with chandeliers and crystal pendants with a special light over the Grand Master's Chair, the settees and chairs were upholstered with purple moreen, the six windows were also hung with the same material at a cost of $53.25 per window. These curtains were finished with fringe and ornaments. There were also several mirrors, and special carved mahogany chairs for the Past Grand Master, Deputy Grand Master, Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer.

The room for Subordinate Lodges was known as the Gothic Room.

There was also a room for the Royal Arch Chapters and Mark Lodges, but no details of their furnishings have come down to us.

There were also a large dining room connected with the ball room or grand salon.

The various rooms were heated by stoves of a special design, but whether for wood or anthracite coal does not appear.²

Wednesday, November 1, the day set for the rededication of the rebuilt Chestnut Street Hall, was a gala day for the Masonic Fraternity. The ceremonies began with a procession and religious service in Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, southeast corner Fourth and Cherry Streets, the largest church edifice in the city; following is the account of the dedication and cere-

Chorus.

Forget thee, I will not, I cannot; thy name,
Engraved on my heart, doth forever remain.
The palms of my hands, whilst I look on, I see
The wounds I received when suff'ring for thee;
I feel at my heart all thy sighs and thy groans,
For thou art most near me, my flesh and my bones.
In all thy distresses thy head feels the pain;
Yet all are most needful; not one is in vain.

From whence his goodness largely flows,
Praise him in Heav'n, where he his face,
Unveil'd in perfect glory shows.

Chorus.

Praise him for all the mighty Acts,
Which he in our behalf has done:
His kindness this return exacts,
With which our praise should equal run.
Let the shrill trumpet's warlike voice,
Make rocks and hills his praise rebound;
Praise him with harp's melodious voice,
And gentle psaltry's silver sound.
Let Virgin troops soft timbrels bring,
And some with graceful motion dance;
Let instruments of various strings,

MASONIC ODE.

Composed by Mr. W. B. Tappan—Music by Pucitta. Arranged by Brother B. Carr.

“Strike the Cymbal,
Roll the tymbal!”
Swell the note of grateful love;
Heav’n rejoices!
Lend your Voices!
Praise the Architect above.

God of glory!
The song of Vict’ry,
Pans loud are ever thine
Cherubs singing,
Glad are bringing Offerings to Jehovah’s shrine!

Lo! in grandeur,
Bedeck’d in splendour,
See the Temple proudly rises!
Masonry triumphant gazes!
Where, red gleaming,
Ruin beaming,
Spread the midnight terror round.

Art combining,
Grace entwining,
Charity the Corner stone:
Discord never Can dissever
Fabrics rear’d on God alone!

Faith and Hope our chosen stay,
Love illumines with mystic ray,

Dedication of the Rebuilt Hall

Truth and Reason still combine,
Still adorn the hallow'd shrine.
Praise, praise the Architect! O praise!
Hosanna! Hosanna! Hosanna!

BENEDICTION.

The fraternity in the Church were honored with the presence of the Reverend Clergy of the various denominations, the Honourable Judges of the several Courts, the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen, the Select and Common Councils, the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania and the Directors of the Academy of Fine Arts, together with a brilliant assemblage of Ladies.

After the ceremonies were concluded in the Church, the Procession was resumed in the same order, and proceeded along the East side of Fourth Street to Race Street; along the North side of Race Street to Sixth Street; along the East side of Sixth Street to Arch Street; along the North side of Arch Street to Ninth Street: along the East side of Ninth Street to Chestnut Street, and along the North side of Chestnut to the New Hall. When the Procession arrived at the Hall, the same reversed order of entering was observed, with the exception of the Building Committee preceeding the Grand Master with the Key, and unlocking the door.

The Grand Master having reached Solomon's Chair the Officers and Members took their seats. The Lodge was then placed in the Center of the Hall, and the Three Lights, with the Golden Pitchers and Cornu-Copia, containing Oil, Wine and Corn, were placed thereon. The Bible, Square and Compasses, on a Crimson Velvet Cushion, were placed on the Grand Master's Pedestal and the Grand Lodge was Tyled.

Forty Seven Lodges being represented Grand Lodge was uncovered and Grand Lodge was opened in Ample Form.

The Grand Secretary stated that the Architect having completed the rebuilding of the Hall, was desirous of surrendering up the implements of Architecture which had been committed to his care, when he commenced the undertaking. Brother Samuel Webb, the Architect then arose, addressed the Grand Master in an elegant speech, returned thanks for honor conferred on him by appointing him to superintend the reconstruction of the Hall, and expressed a hope that the manner in which he had executed the work would meet the approbation of the Grand Master and of the fraternity and requested permission to deliver up the implements of Architecture. The Grand Master then expressed his high approbation of the Architect's conduct, directed the Grand Wardens to receive the implements, which was done, and they were laid on the Lodge.

The Grand Secretary informed the Grand Master that it was the wish of the Fraternity to have the Hall dedicated to The Grand Architect of the Universe and to Masonry. The Grand Master thereupon commanded his Grand Officers and requested the favour of the R. W. Grand Officers, of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey and of the R. W. Past Grand Officers of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania to assist in that solemn duty.

A Dedication prayer was then offered up by one of the Grand Chaplains.

The Grand Officers then made a procession round the Lodge three different times, at the end of which the Grand Master strewing Corn over the Lodge, declared in solemn form, the Hall dedicated To the Grand Architect of the Universe, and to Masonry, which being proclaimed by the Grand Secretary, the Grand Honours were given. The Grand Officers again made a procession round the Lodge three different times, at the end of which the Grand Master pouring Wine over the Lodge, declared in solemn form, the Hall dedicated To Virtue and Science, which being proclaimed by the Grand Secretary, the Grand Honours were given as before. The Grand Officers again made a procession round the Lodge three different times, at the end of which the Grand Master pouring Oil on the Lodge in solemn form, declared the Hall dedicated To Universal Charity and Benevolence, which being proclaimed by the Grand Secretary, the Grand Honours were given as before.

A Consecration prayer was then offered up by One of the Grand Chaplains and the Grand Master returned to Solomon's Chair.

During the ceremony of Dedication the following odes were sung accompanied with the Organ, viz:

FIRST ODE.

Hail! Masonry divine!
Glory of ages shine!
Long may'st thou reign;
Where'er thy Lodges stand,
May they have great command,
And always grace the land;
Thou art divine!

Great fabrics still arise,
And grace the azure skies,
Great are thy schemes:
Thy noble orders are Matchless beyond compare,
No art with thee can share;
Thou art divine!

Hiram, the Architect,
Did all the Craft direct
How they should build;

Dedication of the Rebuilt Hall

Sol'mon, great Is'rel's King, Did mighty blessings bring, And left us room to sing, Hail! royal Art!	} Chorus three times.
---	-----------------------

SECOND ODE.

Hail! mysterious, glorious science,
Which to discord bids defiance;
Harmony alone reigns here.
Come, let's sing to him that rais'd us
From the rugged path that maz'd us,
To the light that we revere.

THIRD ODE.

Air.

When earth's foundation first was laid,
By the Almighty Artist's hand,
'Twas then our perfect laws were made,
Establish'd by his strict command.

Chorus.

Hail! mysterious, hail! glorious Masonry!
That makes us ever great and free.

Praise the Grand Master.

A Masonic Canon for four Voices.

Composed by Dr. J. K. Jackson.

"Praise the Grand Master of the Universal Lodge."

On Motion made and Seconded,
Resolved Unanimously, that the thanks of this Grand the Committee who attended in the Church for the services rendered by them.

On Motion made and Seconded,

Resolved Unanimously, that the thanks of this Grand Lodge be presented to the Committee who procured and arranged the Music in the Church and in the Hall.

On Motion made and Seconded,

Resolved Unanimously, that the thanks of this Grand Lodge be presented to the Ladies and Gentlemen composing the Choir, and to all who assisted in the vocal and instrumental performance this day in the Church and in the Grand Lodge room.

Grand Lodge closed in Harmony at half past 4 o'clock, p. m., and the Brethren repaired to various places previously fixed on to dine.

MASONIC BANQUET.

The Grand Lodge, with the Grand Officers of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey, with a Number of respectable Visitors and Brethren, about Two Hundred in Number, sat down about 5 o'clock in the afternoon to an elegant Banquet, prepared in the Grand Saloon of the Hall, and at an early hour in the Evening they separated in the utmost harmony and good order.

The display of the Craft, about 1000 in Number, exceeded in splendor and order any former exhibition of the kind; and notwithstanding the concourse of spectators surpassed any ever assembled on a public occasion in this City, yet no unpleasant occurrence interrupted the solemnities of the day.

CHAPTER XXVI

THE ANTI-MASONIC PERIOD, 1828-1831

TOWARD the close of the decade there came a dark cloud over the Masonic horizon which for a time cast a shadow over our fair land.

This craze, known as the Anti-Masonic movement, commenced in the small village of Batavia, in the western part of the state of New York in the year 1826. At first a small flickering flame, it soon increased to proportions which swept over almost the whole country, the incident being seized on by political ringsters for their own advancement and gain. Political organizations were formed and the local newspapers were used to incite the public against the Masonic Fraternity. This was especially the case in the country districts among the ignorant and illiterate. Lectures were held by both clergymen and politicians, who told their hearers the most gruesome tales about the "Masons" and how they made a compact with the devil, signed with their own blood, at the time of their initiation. The rights of the church were withheld from such members as refused openly to renounce their allegiance to the Masonic Fraternity. So great was the feeling in the rural sections that churches were broken up, political parties disrupted, and the most tender ties of friendship between man and man were counted for nought by those who went mad on the subject of the mystic order. Even the families of men who were Masons or supposed to belong to the order were ostracized. Cases are upon record where clergymen in their churches gave what they called expositions of initiation in various degrees of Freemasonry, after which men who had never been within the tyled portals, and even women, would get up in the open meeting and publicly renounce Freemasonry and the devil. Strange as it may now appear this clerical opposition to freemasonry was chiefly confined to the Baptist and Methodist Denomination.

Like unto the rolling snowball the Anti-Masonic craze kept increasing in size. Its influence, however, was not felt to any great extent in the large cities until the year 1827.

The beginning of this whole trouble was the "Morgan Excitement" (as it was originally styled). This was brought about as follows. David C. Miller, publisher of a weekly newspaper in the village of Batavia in New York, together with one John Davis and Russell Dyer, of Rochester, N. Y., induced by a desire of gain, entered into an agreement with one William Morgan, an illiterate, intemperate and dissolute character living in Batavia, to publish a book purporting to reveal all the mysteries of Freemasonry of which Morgan was to be the pretended editor. The other parties were to furnish the funds and publish the work, giving, as it was said, one quarter of the proceeds of sales to Morgan. While the sheets were being printed at Miller's office some unjustifiable efforts were made by inconsiderate persons to suppress the work, which gave the affair a tenfold notoriety.

An attempt was also made, it was claimed, to burn the printing office, and a fire certainly took place, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. Every effort was made to induce the printer and informer to abandon their enterprise, but they persevered. Miller was a shrewd enough business man to know that all this excitement was likely to aid in the commercial success of his book.

On September 11, 1826, Morgan was arrested and lodged in Canandaigua jail. On the twelfth he was taken in a conveyance through Victor, Rochester and Clarkson, to Lewiston, a distance of over one hundred miles and lodged in Fort Niagara. What took place when the party reached Fort Niagara is not clear, but it is presumed that Morgan and his escort crossed the Niagara River and then returned. At all events, Morgan was in Fort Niagara on September 17, 1826. On that date also he disappeared, and the most exhaustive inquiry, the most vigilant search instituted with all the power and machinery of the state, backed up by the offers of rich pecuniary rewards, as well as practical proffers of protection to any informer, failed to explore the mystery of where he went or, if his stormy, ill-spent life then ended, to unfold the circumstances.

The only known and indisputable fact in the Morgan case, so far as Morgan was concerned, was that he disappeared. Over four years of inquiry and persecution, popular, political, legislative, clerical and judicial failed to demonstrate beyond all questions anything except that solitary fact. All the passions of the populace became aroused, all the flood-gates of that abuse, which, unfortunately, is so prevailing a feature of American political life, were thrown down, and Masonry became regarded as an accursed thing. The disappearance of Morgan and several co-relating details were eagerly seized by a number of political shysters, struggling for a cause and a cry, for place and perquisites, and made to serve their own paltry purposes.

It caused thousands of good honest men to be carried away by the outbreak of popular delusion based upon false information until they violated their oaths and joined madly in the hue and cry against the fraternity to which they had belonged, and to whom their allegiance was due. It separated families, it arrayed father against son, brother against brother and wife against husband, as well as estranging lifelong friends. It excommunicated from church, it debarred from civil or professional preferment; it denied even the poor favor of decent burial to those who failed to renounce the obligations they had voluntarily taken upon themselves to be good men and true, to support the laws and the government, to deal justly with all men as set forth in the Golden Rule, to practice charity, inculcate morality.

The whole Anti-Masonic crusade was in itself one of the most hideous which the force of popular delusion ever endowed with strength. It spared neither age nor character; a hero of the revolution, a warrior of 1812, a preacher of the gospel, a philanthropist, or a public-spirited citizen, their services and sacrifices were forgotten and they were besmirched in memory or in person by its senseless vaporings. It became a mighty political tornado,¹ sweeping everything in its narrow path before it, and then it passed away, leaving nothing behind it but wreck and ruin of friendship, loyalty, honor and reputation.

William Morgan, whose name has become somewhat familiar to students of American, Masonic and political history, according to Brown's "Narrative of the Anti-Masonic Excitement in the Western Part of the State of New York During the Years 1826-7-8," was a native of Virginia, and born in Culpepper County, in that state, in the year 1775-6. Of his early history little or nothing is known. It has been asserted entirely without proof or citation of authority, though probably more for effect than for anything else, that he was a captain in General Jackson's Army, and fought the distinguished himself at the battle of New Orleans, also that he belonged to a band of pirates, and was sentenced to be hanged, but pardoned upon condition of his entering that army. These statements, however, were merely prepared and circulated after his alleged abduction and neither of them are entitled to any credit in the absence of any record or proof to sustain them.

In October, 1819, at the age forty-three or forty-four, he married Lucinda Pendleton, of Richmond, Virginia, then in her sixteenth year.² In 1821 they removed to Canada, where he commenced the business of a brewer, near York, in the Upper Province. The destruction of his brewery afterwards by fire reduced him to poverty, and he removed to Rochester, New York, where he worked at his trade when he felt like it, and received occasionally some assistance from the Masonic fraternity. From thence he removed to Batavia, in the county of Genesee, and worked also at his trade, which was that of a mason, till his unfortunate disappearance in 1826. During the time of his residence in Batavia he was very intemperate in the use of liquor, with the result that he neglected his family to such an extent that they were frequently in actual want. Without the advantages of education in early life, he had subsequently acquired a competent knowledge of reading, writing and arithmetic, and was a fairly accurate accountant.³ Had he controlled himself he could have maintained his family in comfort and enjoyed the respect and confidence of his friends and neighbors, but unfortunately he failed to do it, and his reputation in consequence was not good among those who knew him.

Just what effect this Anti-Masonic crusade had upon the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania and the Masonic Jurisdiction thereto belonging, and the temporary blight it cast upon the Masonic Fraternity, will appear in the next chapter, which will also give the names of the brethren of Lodge No. 2, who weathered the storm in spite of public opinion, which was rampant during this period of bigotry, political agitation and persecution.

It is enough to say our fraternity behaved itself with great dignity while the subject of attack, as our R. W. G. M. Thomas Kittera said in answer to the Resolution of Grand Lodge in Sept. 1, 1829, "The prejudice which designing men are endeavoring to extend against us will be as short lived as it is bitter and unfounded."

A Society based upon the principles of Masonry has nothing to dread from the attacks. Let us but oppose their clamor with silence and their malevolence with abundant and the result will be such as rarely fail to attend the efforts of the Virtuous.

This as will subsequently appear was prophetic.

To the W. M. Officers and Brethren of Lodge No. 2,

The Committee appointed to inquire if any alteration is necessary in Art. 12 of the By-Laws of this Lodge, beg leave to report:—

That, after having given the subject every consideration they are of the opinion that the present remuneration to the Secretary namely:—

Thirty five dollars per annum with exemption from dues is fixed at too high a rate, inasmuch, as it holds out an inducement for members to seek that office for pecuniary advantage. And believing that any office sought and held for the sake of emolument is subversive of the interest of the Lodge, the Committee would respectfully suggest to the Lodge the propriety of altering the compensation to the secretary to the sum of twelve dollars per annum with exemption from dues. This sum it is believed is a just and fair remuneration for the labour which he has to perform. The Committee have been aided in this estimate by the experience of the present secretary, and they are happy in having the present opportunity of rendering a tribute to his disinterestedness for his having served the Lodge in the capacity of Secretary for nearly two years without any remuneration. All of which is respectfully submitted.

CHAPTER XXVII

STEPHEN GIRARD AND HIS LEGACY, 1832-1835

THE beginning of the year 1832 was an eventful period in the history of our Grand Lodge, notwithstanding the financial difficulties under which the Grand Lodge labored, owing chiefly to the political anti-Masonic crusade in the State, and partly to the remissness of such subordinate lodges, as had not thus far succumbed under the political excitement against Freemasonry, in paying up their arrearages.

At the Extra Grand Communication of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania held Monday February 20, 1832, the following Communication from the Executors of our late Brother Stephen Girard was received accompanied by an official copy of his will.

“The Undersigned Executors of the last will of Stephen Girard late of the City of Philadelphia, deceased, respectfully present this official copy of that will to the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

	TIMOTHY PAXSON,
	THOS. P. COPE,
Philadelphia,	JOSEPH ROBERTS,
February 17th, 1832,	W. J. DUANE,
2d month 17.	JOHN A. BARCLAY."

And on motion and seconded, It was ordered That the said official copy of the last will of our deceased Brother Stephen Girard be appropriately bound and filed among the Archives of this Grand Lodge.

This Official Copy signed by the executors is still in the Archives of the Grand Lodge and can be seen by application to the Librarian.¹

After this presentation, the R. W. Grand Master then directed the Grand Secretary to report to the Grand Lodge the proceedings that had taken place relative to the funeral of our late brother Stephen Girard.

Whereupon, The Grand Secretary made the following Report.

That our worthy Brother Stephen Girard died on the 26th day of December last, and on the 28th of the same month the following general invitation to his funeral appeared in the publick prints of this city.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, Dec. 28, 1831.

The funeral of the late Mr. Stephen Girard, will proceed from his late residence, North Water street, to the burial ground of the Holy Trinity church, N. W. corner of Spruce and Sixth Streets, at 10 o'clock on Friday forenoon, December 30.

The Trustees of the bank of Stephen Girard, are requested to meet, and proceed together, as mourners, next after the relatives of the deceased.

An invitation is respectfully given to the public bodies, institutions and societies, hereinafter named, to proceed to the funeral in the following order.

The Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and the Select and Common Councils, with their officers.

The Wardens of the Port of Philadelphia.

The officers and members of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, and of the subordinate Lodges.

The officers and members of the Society for the relief of distressed masters of ships, and their widows.

The officers of and contributors to the Pennsylvania Hospital.

The Comptrollers, Directors, and others, of the Public Schools.

The officers and members of the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

The officers and members of the Orphan Asylum.

The officers and members of the Societe de Bienfaisance, Francaise.

The officers and members of the Fuel Savings Society.

Other benevolent Societies are respectfully invited and requested to proceed next after the Fuel Savings Society.

In a community, in which Mr. Girard was so universally known as he was useful, it is not practicable to give special invitations to individuals—nor is it supposed, that invitations will have been expected. All those who knew Mr. Girard personally or by reputation, and who revere his example and memory, are respectfully invited to attend his funeral.

Dec. 28th, 1831.

As it is customary to protract the time fixed for funerals for an hour beyond that designated. In the present instance the procession will positively move at 11: o'clock.

The procession will move up Water Street to Arch, up Arch Street to Sixth, down Sixth Street to the place of interment, at the corner of Spruce and Sixth Streets.

This programme was exactly carried out.

And on the same day the following letter was received from Brother William J. Duane one of the Executors.

To JOHN M. READ, Esquire, Right Worshipful Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania:

Respected Brother,

As one of those who are authorized to attend to the interment of the body of our lately deceased and highly esteemed brother Stephen Girard, I pray you to make known to the Right Worshipful the grand officers and members of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, and to the officers and members of the subordinate Lodges within the City of Philadelphia, that they are respectfully invited to attend the funeral of their deceased brother from his late residence, North Water street at 10 o'clock on Friday next.

With the utmost respect,

Your brother and friend,

W. J. DUANE.

December 28th, 1831.

Funeral of Stephen Girard

And on the same day the following notice was issued by order of the R. W. Grand Master and published in the newspapers of this City on the 29th and 30th December last.

GRAND LODGE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

December 28th, 1831.

The officers and members of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania and of the subordinate Lodges, having been specially invited to attend the funeral of our late worthy and distinguished brother Stephen Girard, Esquire. The Grand Officers and Past Grand Officers of this Grand Lodge and the officers and members of the Lodges within this jurisdiction are particularly requested to meet at the saloon of The Masonic Hall in Chestnut street on Friday morning, the 30th inst. at half past nine o'clock precisely and to proceed thence to the funeral.

By order of the R. W. Grand Master.

JOHN M. READ,
Grand Secretary.

In pursuance of the said notice Three hundred and ninety six Members of the Fraternity assembled at the Masonick Hall and proceeded from thence to the funeral and after the body was interred returned to the Hall, and after an appropriate address from the R. W. Grand Master and an elegant prayer from the Reverend Bro. Plummer, Grand Chaplain, were dismissed.

In attending this funeral the Masonic Fraternity labored under serious disadvantages, first, by the cloud cast over them by the political anti-Masonic excitement which was then at its highest. Secondly by the fact that the Services were to be held in the German Roman Catholic Church of the Holy Trinity at the northwest corner of Sixth and Spruce streets and the interment in a vault adjoining the church.

When the procession arrived at the church which had been draped in mourning for the occasion considerable excitement arose between the church authorities and the mourners when the Grand Lodge and brethren attempted to enter the church. To avoid any undue criticism the brethren were without Aprons or any regalia, the officers mostly wearing their Collars and Jewels. Just what took place within the Church is not known to a certainty, except that when the procession entered the yard, the Catholic Clergy left the church, therefore the funeral services of the Catholic Church were not performed. The Brethren after waiting some time took the body out of the church and placed it in a vault on the North side of the church, according to the wishes of the deceased.

The following account of the affair is taken from the History of the Holy Trinity Parish by Rev. Francis J. Hertkorn, Phila., 1914, p. 86, viz: —

It is said that when Girard was found to be dying, his sister asked him if he would not see a priest. He assented, but before the pastor arrived, Girard was dead. Then the sister prevailed upon Bishop Kenrick to attend the funeral and, as the dying man's assent to a priestly visit was regarded as evidence of his intention to be reconciled to the Church in which he had been baptised, the Bishop consented and the body was admitted into the church. The entry in Bishop Kenrick's² diary of this date speaks for itself: "The body of Stephen Girard was brought with much funeral pomp, attended by many Free Masons marching in procession in scarfs and ornaments, as a tribute of respect to their deceased companion, to the church of the Holy Trinity. When, therefore, I saw these enter the Church to have funeral rites gone through, no priest assisting, I ordered the body taken away for burial. I allowed it to have christian burial for the potent reason that the deceased was baptised in the church and never left it, and when death came his illness was such that he did not perceive its approach."

Bishop Kenrick's Account

Following is an interesting account of the funeral published in the *United States Gazette*³ a few days after the funeral, viz:—

"The Funeral of Mr. Stephen Girard took place yesterday morning, at the hour indicated in the programme published in the papers. The Hearse was preceded by the police of the City, and the whole of the City Watch walked beside the mourning carriages with broad blue ribbons on their breast marked 'City Watch.' Next to the mourners on foot, were the Mayor and Recorder of the City, with broad mode hat weepers⁴ and scarfs.

⁴ Hat-weepers—bands of bombazine around the hat with long ends.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

“The Aldermen and City Councils succeeded, and then a Society of which the deceased was a member.⁵ This was succeeded by the Officers of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Pennsylvania and the Officers and Members of the Subordinate Lodges. The Officers wore their Collars and Jewels, but not their Aprons. These were succeeded by various Societies, constituting, perhaps the largest funeral procession ever seen in this City, and the streets from the commencement to the termination of the procession, were thronged with immense numbers of all ages and both sexes. The windows of the houses in the streets leading to the church were closed, out of respect, during the passage of the procession.

“The remains were conveyed in a richly decorated coffin,⁶ covered with black cloth, with silver trappings on an open hearse, to the Holy Trinity Church, northwest corner of Sixth and Spruce Street. No church ritual was performed in the church nor at the grave, where the body was silently deposited in the vault.”

After the Grand Secretary finished reading his report of the Funeral of Girard at the Extra Grand Communication held February 20, 1832.

The Bequest to the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania

⁵ The Wardens of the Port of Philadelphia.

⁶ The Body of Bro. Girard was first placed in a lead coffin which was sealed or soldered. This was then placed in the coffin made by C. B. Comby at a cost of $150.00. The total expense of the funeral expenses amounted to $2,590.76. The chief item was $1,371.90 for crape in decorating the church.

Bequest to the Grand Lodge contained in the will so presented by the Executors of our late Brother Stephen Girard was read as follows:

“VII. I give and bequeath to the gentlemen who shall be Trustees of the Masonic Loan at the time of my decease the sum of Twenty-Thousand Dollars,⁷ including therein ten thousand and nine hundred dollars, due to me, part of the masonic Loan, and any interest that may be due thereon at the time of my decease, in trust for the use and benefits of “The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania and Masonic Jurisdiction thereto belonging” and to be paid over by the said Trustees to the said Grand Lodge, for the purposes of being invested in some safe stock or funds or other good security and the dividends and interest arising therefrom to be again so invested and added to the Capital, without applying any part thereof to any other purpose, until the whole capital shall amount to Thirty thousand Dollars, when the same shall forever after remain a permanent fund or capital of the said Amount of Thirty thousand Dollars, the interest whereof shall be applied from time to time to the relief of poor and respectable brethren, and in order that the real and benevolent purposes of masonic institutions may be attained. I recommend to the several lodges not to admit to membership or to receive members from other lodges unless the applicants shall absolutely be men of sound and good morals.”

⁷ This bequest at the present time amounts approximately to about $90,000.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

When on motion of Bro. James Harper, R. W. Past Grand Master, and seconded by Bro. John Steele, R. W. Deputy Grand Master, the following Preamble and Resolutions were Unanimously Adopted:

Whereas, our late worthy and distinguished Brother Stephen Girard, has by his Last Will made a highly liberal and benevolent bequest to The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania for the purpose of establishing a permanent fund for the diffusion of Masonick Charity,

And Whereas, it is incumbent on this Grand Lodge in accepting the trust thus reposed in them to express the deep sense of gratitude which they feel towards so noble a benefactor of their "poor and respectable brethren" and at the same time to call the attention of the Order to the Wise and excellent advice contained in the Legacy of our departed Brother,

Therefore Resolved, That "The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania and masonick jurisdiction thereunto belonging" Do accept with feelings of the deepest gratitude the munificent bequest of Twenty Thousand Dollars of our late worthy and excellent Brother Stephen Girard Do hereby erect the same into a permanent fund forever to be called "The Stephen Girard Charity Fund" and to be managed in the manner set forth in his said will and applied to the purposes therein mentioned.

Resolved, That the wise and liberal conduct of our late Brother towards the Masonick order during the whole period of his long and valuable life, This devotion to the fraternity, His noble bequests and the parting words of advice and admonition contained in this last solemn declaration of his opinion, entitle him to the grateful recollection not only of every mason but of every true lover of his fellow-men.

Resolved, That the advice of our Brother expressed in his said will as follows:

“And in order that the real and benevolent purposes of masonick institutions may be attained, I recommend to the several lodges not to admit to membership or to receive members from other lodges unless the applicants shall be absolutely men of sound and good morals,” is in strict conformity with the principles and constitutions of our ancient order, and being also the opinion of a wise and experienced Brother, is most earnestly recommended to the different lodges for their guidance and government.

Resolved, That as a testimonial of our great respect for the memory of our deceased brother the jewels, hangings and other furniture of The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania be placed in mourning for the space of six months.

On motion and seconded,

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing proceedings be communicated by the Grand Secretary to the Executors of our deceased brother.

On motion and seconded,

Resolved, That the communication of the executors of Bro. Girard and the preamble and resolutions adopted this evening be published in the publick newspapers of this City.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

On motion and seconded,

Resolved, That the Grand Secretary be requested to append to the annual publication of the proceedings for the past year so much of the proceedings of the present year as relates to the funeral and bequest of Bro. Girard.

On motion and seconded,

Resolved, That so much of the will of Bro. Girard as contains the legacy to this Grand Lodge be copied and appropriately framed and hung up in a conspicuous part of the Grand Lodge Room.^{7a}

AS to the Masonic affiliation of Brother Stephen Girard there has been up to the present investigation more or less uncertainty. It will be noted that in none of the records or notices of the Grand Lodge, or the Annual returns of members of Lodge No. 3, does the name of Brother Stephen Girard appear as a member of that Lodge. The claim that he was a Member of Lodge No. 3 in Philadelphia was erroneously based upon the following Entries in the old Minute Book of Royal Arch Lodge No. 3, in the Archives of the Grand Lodge (Mss., Volume 116).

“Brs. Col. McVaugh, Capt. Calhoun, Col John Kephale & Capt. Girard were rais’d.

There is no entry as to when or by whom this “Capt. Girard” was proposed nor does the name of “Capt. Girard” or “Stephen Girard” appear in any subsequent Minutes of the lodge, nor upon any of the yearly lists of Members of Lodge No. 3 sent to the Grand Lodge.

The matter is further complicated by the fact that Stephen Girard was not a resident of Philadelphia at that time. From 1776 to 1779 Stephen Girard lived with his wife at Mount Holly in New Jersey, occupied in his humble business of bottler and village storekeeper.

In addition to the above our Stephen Girard was physically disqualified from becoming a member of the Masonic Fraternity under the Jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, on account of not being sound in all his members, Girard lacking his right eye.

Then again there was a “Captain” Girard in the Revolutionary Army at that time, and by a strange coincidence the first name of this “Captain” Girard is also missing on the official list of Revolutionary Officers, as published by Heitman in 1914; same as that of the “Capt” Girard in the Minutes and Records of Lodge No. 3 in Philadelphia. It will be noted in the extracts from the Minutes of Lodge No. 3, as above

Subscriptions to Masonic Loan

it appeared that the expenditure would be much more than subscribed, and would greatly exceed the funds of the Grand Lodge. The Grand Lodge, therefore, determined that an additional loan of $40,000 should be raised, and that the subscription books be opened at the Merchants Coffee House in Second Street; after twelve days notice having been given, in five of the daily papers, published in Philadelphia, from the 18th of November to the first of December, 1809.⁹

Under this resolution, a set of commissioners was appointed for receiving the subscriptions of which Stephen Girard was appointed one of the commissioners,¹⁰ to act in conjunction with the Grand Lodge Officers. At the meeting of the commissioners held November 30, 1809, a letter was received from Stephen Girard, mentioning that he is extremely sorry that an arbitration in which he is engaged puts it out of his power to attend at this meeting of the commissioners.

On Friday, December 1, 1809, at ten o'clock the subscription was opened and the whole sum of forty thousand dollars, being the amount of the loan, was subscribed before twelve o'clock as follows, viz.:

79 persons subscribed 5 shares each is	395 shares
1 person subscribed	4

The payments made were as follows to wit:

184 Shares paid in full	a $100,	$18400
50 Shares paid 1st & 2nd Instalments ..	50,	2500
166 Shares paid 1st Instalment	25,	4150
		$25050

Amounting in the whole to twenty-five thousand and fifty dollars, which was received by the Grand Treasurer, Samuel F. Bradford, in behalf of the Grand Lodge.

After which a Board of Trustees were elected by the Stockholders in place of the Commissioners, among whom was Stephen Girard. Stephen Girard was re-elected on this Board of Trustees for every consecutive year until his death.¹¹

At the beginning of the year 1813, it was found that the Funds of Grand Lodge, provided for the erection of the new hall, proved insufficient for the purpose, and a sum of five thousand dollars was wanting to discharge all the debts owing, and to be incurred for the entire completion of the said building and its appurtenances.

It was resolved to borrow the further sum of $5,000 in shares of $100 each, and the Grand Secretary submit a copy of the foregoing proceedings to the different Lodges.

Under the above authority a book for subscriptions was opened at the office of the Grand Secretary and the following appears therein, to wit:¹²

AT a Stated Meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Masonic Loans held December 26, 1820, the Grand Secretary reported that the funds of the Grand Lodge having proved insufficient to rebuild the Masonic Hall, which had been destroyed by Fire, March 9, 1819, the Grand Lodge by resolutions passed on the 5th day of June and 16th day of October last, authorised the borrowing on Loan of the Sum of Twenty-Thousand Dollars, for the purpose of completing the same, for which Certificates of One Hundred Dollars each, were to be issued to the Stockholders, repayable after the year 1840 with interest at six per cent. per annum payable half year.¹³

There is a tradition current in the family of late Bro. Wm. H. Adams,¹⁴ Grand Secretary, “That after the destruction of the Chestnut Street Hall in 1819, Stephen Girard was appealed to for a subscription, and he offered to subscribe $20,000.00 of the loan providing that the Hall be rebuilt without a tower, as that was a useless expenditure.

¹³ Minutes of the Trustees of the Masonic Loan, p. 98.

¹⁴ Brother William H. Davidson, Lodge No. 114, grand nephew of Brother William H. Adams, Grand Secretary, 1843-1866, states that as a young man he heard it stated that after the destruction of the Chestnut Street Hall, Stephen Girard was appealed to for subscription, and he offered to subscribe $20,000, providing that the hall be rebuilt without the tower.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

No documentary evidence of this fact, however, has thus far been found; as a matter of fact the Hall, however, was rebuilt without the ornamental spire.

In October, 1787, Stephen Girard sailed for Charleston, South Carolina, where he remained until July, 1788.¹⁵ It was during his sojourn there that he was made a Mason on January 28, 1788, in Union Blue Lodge, No. 8; this is shown by his Masonic Certificate among the papers of Stephen Girard in possession of the Directors of City Trusts, Philadelphia, by act of June 30, 1869, of which the following is a Copy,¹⁶ viz.:

This Certificate bears his signature, Steph^a Girard, Ne Varietur.

STEPHEN GIRARD was a more or less eccentric character and on account of his prominence and wealth during his later years does not appear to have affiliated, so far as known, with any of the social or fraternal organizations in Philadelphia; he was not a member of the French Benevolent Society, nor does his name appear in the records of the “La Loge Francaise L'Amenite," No. 73, the two leading French charitable organizations in the city during the latter part of the eighteenth and first quarter of the nineteenth century.

The only record of Stephen Girard ever having visited a Philadelphia or Pennsylvania Lodge is shown by the endorsement on the back of his Masonic Certificate which shows that he visited the French Lodge L'Amenity, No. 73, in Philadelphia, shortly after his return from his voyage, viz.:

"By the Respectable Loge Francaise de la Amenite No. 73, of the Orient of Philadelphia the 5th day of the 5 month in the year of light 5798

By order of the L. . R. . L. . "

FOUCHER,¹⁸

Many were the unfounded reports connecting Girard with the Masonic Fraternity, current at the time of his death, and after his will was published, particularly the claim that he was a member of Lodge No. 3 in Philadelphia. Thus his biographer, Stephen Simpson, in his book published in 1832, states that the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania "walked in solemn procession, and full form to the chapel, as mourners for their Grand Treasurer, and liberal patron."

¹⁸ Stanislas Foucher was the secretary of Lodge No. 73.

Washington Centennial

ANOTHER event at the beginning of the year 1832 of interest to the Fraternity, was the proposed celebration of the Centennial of the birth of Bro. George Washington, February 22, 1832.

At an Extra Grand Communication held Friday, February 10, 1832, the following Communication was read:—

Sir,

The Committee of arrangement appointed by the citizens of the City and County of Philadelphia, respectfully request, the participation of yourself and the Grand and subordinate lodges of the State of Pennsylvania, in the celebration contemplated on the 22d of February.

By order and on behalf of the Committee.

H. D. GILPIN,
Chairman.

Philadelphia, 7 February, 1832.

To

Michael Nisbet, Esq.,
Grand Master of Pennsylvania.

Whereupon, motion made and seconded, it was, Resolved, That the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania on behalf of themselves and the Lodges within this jurisdiction respectfully decline the kind invitation which has been just read, and that the R. W. Grand Master be requested to communicate the same in an appropriate letter to the Chairman of the Committee of arrangement.

The following Resolution was submitted by Bro. N. Nathans and seconded.

Resolved, that the front of the Masonick Hall be illuminated on the night of the 22d instant, provided the Public Buildings in Chestnut Street are.

Which resolution being under consideration, It was moved by Bro. Perkins and seconded, to amend the same by striking out all that follows the word "Resolved" and inserting the following "That Military Committee be allowed to illuminate the front of the Hall on the night of 22 February."

Which being under consideration, It was moved and seconded to postpone the further consideration of the amendment together with the original resolution until the third Monday in February instant which was agreed to.

At an Adjourned Extra Grand Communication held February 20, 1832, following action was taken in reference to the proposed Centennial Celebration on Washington's Birthday, February 22nd.

The Resolution offered by Bro. Nathans relative to the illumination of the Hall on the 22nd instant, together with the amendment of Bro. Perkins, the consideration of which was postponed until this evening was called up and on motion and seconded the same were postponed indefinitely.

One of the features of this celebration were the Hatters who bore the banner of St. Clement, and had cars displaying skins of the various animals used in the business, with a full working hatters shop, bows, and felting apparatus, kettles, with hatters at work making hats; during the procession they made a hat out and out in the street, which was intended to be presented to Gen. Lafayette.

The hat made for Gen. Lafayette was presented to him and his autograph letter of thanks for same is now in the Archives of the Grand Lodge: viz:—

AT the Quarterly Grand Communication held Monday, June 2, 1834, On motion made and seconded, It was resolved, That an address shall be delivered on St. John The Baptist's day (12th of June next) being as was thought at that time the centennial anniversary of the establishment of the first lodge in Pennsylvania, in this Hall by a brother selected for that purpose and that Bros. Nisbet, Moore, Stout, Riley, Cooper, Kelly and G. Smith together with the Grand Officers be a committee to make the necessary arrangements for the celebration for the memorable anniversary who shall report at the next meeting of the Grand Lodge.

At an adjourned Quarterly Grand Communication held Monday, June 16th, 1834, Bro. Nisbet R. W. Past Grand Master, from the Committee appointed at the last meeting of the Grand Lodge Reported The following arrangements which were unanimously adopted:

“For the celebration of “St. John The Baptist's Day 24th June, A. L. 5834, A. D. 1834.

“Being the centennial anniversary of the establishment of The First Lodge in Pennsylvania as they [Then] supposed of which Lodge Bro. Benjamin Franklin was The First Master.

“The Grand Lodge will meet in the Grand Lodge Room on the morning of the 24th at 10 o'clock.

June 24th, 1834

“Such business as may be necessary will be transacted.

“Brethren will be admitted until a quarter before 12: o'clock.

“At 12 o'clock The Deputy Grand Master Bro. G. M. Dallas will commence his address to the Brethren he having agreed to perform that duty.

“The Grand Secretary will give notice of these arrangements to the Masters of the Lodges in the City and County of Philadelphia and they are requested to notify their members to attend.

“The Grand Secretary is empowered to write such sojourning brethren and such other members of the fraternity, who do not at present belong to any lodge in the City and County, as he may deem proper.

“At the Extra Grand Communication of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania held Tuesday, June 24th, 1834, Thirty Four Lodges being represented the Grand Lodge was opened in due form at 10: minutes past Ten o'clock in the morning.

“A number of visiting Brethren were admitted and the number amounting to more than three hundred it was found impossible to collect and record all their names with accuracy.

“The decease of their Brother and Fellow Member, General Lafayette, having been announced to the Grand Lodge. This sad news cast a cloud over the proposed Centennial (!) celebration.

1730 — Freemasonry in Pennsylvania — 1907

“After proper resolutions had been adopted the Grand Lodge closed and the fraternity proceeded to the Saloon where they were gratified by hearing a very beautiful and instructive masonic address from Bro. George M. Dallas, R. W. Dep. Grand Master.”

Unfortunately none of the Masonic portion of this address has come down to us; an abstract of such past relating to the death of Lafayette is published in the Reprint of the Minutes of the Grand Lodge.¹⁹

The above Celebration was held under a misapprehension, the brethren in the absence of such original documents as “Liber B” of St. John’s Lodge of Philadelphia and other contemporary data, assumed that the literature issued and claims made by the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts were correct; our records dating back to 1730, at that time being unknown both to our brethren and those of Massachusetts, as all of our old Colonial and Revolutionary records saved from the fire in 1819 had been gathered together and packed away in six strong boxes, securely locked and sealed by Brother Bernard Dahlgren, who was Grand Secretary in 1824. These boxes remained for years unknown and forgotten in a seldom used vault, until after the death of R. W. Grand Secretary, Brother Michael Nisbet, in 1896, when it occurred to Brother John A. Perry, Deputy Grand Secretary, to open them and investigate their contents, and are now in the archives of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

1835—"THIRD STREET" (WASHINGTON) HALL—1855.
THIRD STREET ABOVE SPRUCE—WEST SIDE.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

WASHINGTON HALL, THIRD STREET ABOVE SPRUCE,
1835-1849.

DURING the third decade of last century their dawned the darkest period for the Masonic Fraternity in Pennsylvania. The tidal wave of anti-masonry had dashed itself against the rock of Freemasonry, and temporarily spread its venomous spray over our fraternity, and by its action winnowing out the weakhearted members who were influenced by denominational, family or political reasons to renounce their fealty to the fraternity. It required a strong man to stand up for the faith that was in him at this period. However, before the decade was ended, the tidal wave of anti-masonic fanaticism had spent its fury and resurged into oblivion; leaving the Masonic Fraternity unscathed in the minds of all right thinking people, upheld as it was by the brethren who had stood by the fraternity in the days of trial and tribulation, among whom were some of the most honored and prominent citizens of our State, who were officers and members of our Grand Lodge.

It will be remembered that the Anti-Masonic propaganda from the very beginning had in the hands of scheming men became a great political machine who attempted to use what may be called a popular excitement for their own aggrandizement.

In 1829 the Anti-masonic party nominated Joseph Ritner for Governor of Pennsylvania. He was defeated by Bro. George Wolf. Three years later Ritner was again defeated for the governorship by Bro. Wolf. However, in 1835 he was for the third time proposed by his party and elected Governor of the State.

In 1838 Governor Ritner was for the fourth time proposed for Governor by his party, now called the United Whig party, and made up of Federalists, Anti-Masons and conservative Democrats. He was defeated, and with the election of his successor the anti-masonic party disappeared as a political factor in Pennsylvania because it lacked principles and its allegations were false and untrue.

The baneful effects of the Anti-Masonic crusade however, became more and more manifest in the financial condition of the Grand and Subordinate Lodges.

At an Adjourned Grand Quarterly Communication held March 16, 1835, the Committee on Finance made a lengthy report upon the financial condition of the Grand Lodge.¹

Financial Reports

The committee reported that, according to their calculation, there would be a deficiency at the end of the year 1835 of nine hundred and seventy-five dollars.

Further, that the Committee have observed with Pain and Mortification that their regular Annunciation of the alarming facts, that for several years the Expenses of the Grand Lodge have considerably exceeded their Income has not led to a Correction of the evil. During last year, 1834, the Receipts of the Grand Lodge from the Hall greatly exceeded those of former years. Yet with all this extraordinary Income, there is a deficiency of more than Fifteen Hundred Dollars. That is, the actual expenses of the Institution, counting dues on Interest and the Grand Secretary and Grand Tyler actually exceeded all the Income by that Amount, with that appalling Circumstance in View and the Strong probability that the present and future years will not afford an equal Income for the Hall. Your Committee are also constrained to advert to the financial difficulties of a large number of Subordinate Lodges which, whatever may be the Zeal of their Members, for the honor and Support of the Craft, cannot be supposed to rise Under the Burthens of Debt that now weigh them down. Still less to sustain continued or Increased Taxation, Members who would willingly devote a due portion of time and a moderate degree of their earnings to the Good of the Cause, now withdraw from a responsibility that threatens to Interfere with their higher obligations to their own Families.

While many Members of the Grand Lodge are Content to mark its existence and to desire its prosperity, your Committee have felt it a Solemn Duty carefully to Enquire into and freely to expose the financial Difficulties of the Institution and in addition to their Statement of present embarrassments to add the expression of their Solemn Conviction that in a few years, the Interest upon the existing Debt and the difference between the Actual expenditures and Receipts of the Grand Lodge will so Increase the Debt that the Propriety of the Institution will be in Eminent Jeopardy.

The Interest of the Debt must be Paid, and the General Expenses of the Grand Lodge can Scarcely be diminished, while to any observer of the Signs of the Times, it must be obvious, that the revenue will be Considerably lessened. The tendency of this course is towards Bankruptcy and Dissolution, Strengthened by the Certainty not previously adverted to, Viz: that in about 5 Years the Law exempting our Real Estate from Taxation will expire and we can scarcely entertain a Hope of its renewal.

Your Committee are aware that Brethren have Suggested as an expediency of Profit, the Erection of Buildings in Front of the Hall. Something indeed might be added to the revenue by such a Measure, but the Debt would also be greatly Increased, while it is evident to the Committee that the deficiency in the Revenue would not be supplied as soon as Taxation upon all the Buildings Commenced, and your Committee respectfully but earnestly caution the Grand Lodge against any further Building Speculations. Your Committee have not confined their Enquiries to the extent of existing difficulties, or the impracticability of Certain Plans of Removing the embarrassments, but have felt it a part of their Duty to Suggest to the Grand Lodge a means of escape from the evils which threaten it, and they respectfully offer for Consideration a Plan which if not the only efficient one, is in their opinion the best that in present Circumstances can be devised; it is as follows:

Sell the Estate, Pay the Debts and from the Balance Purchase a Hall amply large for all the purposes of Masonry and the remainder will be a Fund for Charity the True object of our order.

The Particulars of the Plan Suggested are as follows, Viz: The Lot and Hall is Worth from $105 to 115.000 dollars, say	110.000

Sinking Fund,	5.635
		115.635
Debt due by
Grand Lodge,	66.000
Purchase of New Property,	23.000
Repairs and Alterations necessary to New Property at the extent not more than,	66.35
		95.635
	Dollars,	20.000

This leaving a Fund of Twenty thousand Dollars to be applied to Charitable Purposes, or in the ordinary Expenses of the Grand Lodge and this without reference to the usual incomes of Rent if any, and the Dues of Subordinate Lodges.

The Sum of Twenty Thousand Dollars left to the Grand Lodge by our late Worthy Brother Girard will soon Amount to Thirty Thousand by the Regular addition of Interest to the principal, when that too will become a Charity Fund, nor is your Committee satisfied that the General Charity Fund may not be applied to swell that Sum Immediately to the required Amount.

Your Committee have referred to the Cost of another Hall as being about $23,000. They have not spoken without due Enquiry. A Building eligibly situated of Sufficient Capacity for all the Masonic Bodies in the City, they have reason to believe, may be had for that Sum and $6635 more will be required to prepare the Interior for the particular Convenience of Masonry.

Your Committee in the above Estimates of the Value of the Property of the Grand Lodge did not take into account the Policy of Insurance on the Present Building $1500, which can be converted into Cash by allowing 5 p^r. Cent., 1425.00 making three thousand, four Hundred and Twenty five Dollars and they have also overlooked the Amount which may be due from Subordinate Lodges.
Present Charity Fund about, 2000.00

The Committee have Carefully set before the Grand Lodge the present state of its Financial Affairs and the prospects under existing regulations. They have also proposed an efficient remedy for existing difficulties and a prevention of Future similar troubles. The situation of the Grand Lodge is alarming to every Friend of the Order and Ruin to the Craft seems to be inevitable if no Remedy is adopted. The Plan which your Committee proposes, relinquishes none of the high Standing of the order; it frees us from Debt, furnishes us with a Beautiful Building, releases the Subordinate Lodges from existing enthrallment and future heavy taxation, encourages the Craft in regular attendance, insures Prosperity by opening the Door to Membership, renews the affection and fealty of Country Lodges to the Grand Lodge, Gives to each Lodge a Means of Charity and Places at the disposal of the Grand Lodge a Magnificent Sum from the Interest of which, the Wants of a distressed Worthy Brother, his Widow or his Orphans may be Amply Supplied and thus the great object of our order be fully attained.

All of which is Respectfully Submitted.

Signed S. WONDERLY.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

The following report from the Grand Committee of Twenty-One was then read with the accompanying documents:²

To the Right Worshipful The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania:

The Committee of Twenty One Appointed at the last Grand Quarterly Communication to take into Consideration and Report the most feasible means of relieving the pecuniary Concerns of the Grand Lodge, respectfully make Report as follows:

Having assembled early after their appointment the Committee Caused to be prepared a Comprehensive and distinct Statement of the Property, the Debts, the Resources, and the Expenditures of the Grand Lodge together with a View of the Condition of the Girard Legacy, this Document is herewith Communicated.

It would appear that the Property of the Grand Lodge of every description, real and Personal, may be reasonably estimated at	$131,362.50 that the funded and Miscellaneous Debts actually amount to	66,258.83
leaving an access of estimated Property of.....	$65,103.67
This, as available Property, is of course exclusive of the Trust Property of the Grand Lodge applicable only to fixed and special purposes, to wit, The Charity Fund, and the Girard Legacy, and the Trust Property being added,	23,398.26
Swells the aggregate excess of Property over Indebtedness to,	$88,501.93

This excess of substantial Capital contrasts most Unfavorably with the Annual resources and Expenditures of the Grand Lodge, and exhibits a large Investment in Real Estate worse than wholly unproductive.

The estimated annual Payments of the G. L. are,	5,995.52
And the estimated Receipts applicable to their Payments are,	4,683.00
Shewing (notwithstanding the excess of Property over Debt) an annual deficiency of,	$1,312.52

Plans for Relief

This waste of Capital and this regular annual deficiency seem to your Committee alike Unwise and Perilous. If allowed to operate a few years longer, the Mischief may become Irremediable, and any diminution in the present value of the Real Estate of the Grand Lodge arising from Public or Accidental Causes, would hasten a most embarrassing and disgraceful, if not fatal Catastrophe, to the Financial Concerns and Character of the Order. While we have it yet in our Power it would seem to be our Duty to bring our excess of Property into active Usefulness, to prevent the possibility of our Annually Sinking deeper and deeper in Debt, and to place the Paramount objects of Masonic Charity, Justice and Integrity beyond all Hazard, difficulty or Doubt.

Under these impressions, your Committee have reviewed certain Projects for Financial relief which have heretofore been Suggested.

1st It is thought by some that the Revenues of the Grand Lodge might be considerably augmented if Stores or other Buildings fit to be Rented out were erected on the Lot in front of the Hall.

To carry this Plan into execution, it would be necessary to Borrow a Considerable Sum of Money, and any additional Debt would seem Imprudent. The expedient might fail, the Income from the newly Constructed Buildings might fall short of what would seem just now to be reasonably expected. The erection of these Buildings in Front would probably Injuriouly affect the occupation and receipts of the Hall itself. The Sum expended on them would add little or nothing to the Value of the entire Property in case a Sale should be ultimately determined upon.

If it be Calmly remembered that the act of assembly exempting this Hall from Taxation will expire in less than Five Years and that an annual demand not less than $1000 will then be added to our present expenses, that to the existing amount of Annual deficiency will be superadded the Interest on the Sum to be Borrowed for the Construction of the proposed Buildings and that their productiveness would be Subject to the usual uncertainties of Rents and other Contingents; it is believed that the Fraternity will generally Coincide with the Committee in rejecting the Project as Inexpedient and Hazardous.

2^d The Sale of the Real Estate occupied by the Grand Lodge and the Purchase of another Lot and Edifice much less expensive, is the only other Plan which has been presented to the consideration of the Committee and this they are inclined to believe may be most advantageously and usefully Carried into Execution.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

It is certainly true that a Transfer of the Labors of the Order from this Hall to any other will be made with Regret. Erected and Consecrated at a Period of great Masonic Prosperity and expectation, we have clung to it with Natural Pride, and have lavished upon it more of our affections and our means than experience and Prudence can Justify. If we Quit it, let us take Consolation from the reflection that in doing so we return to the practice of fundamental Principles, that as we throw off the Vestments of Splendor we resume the Beauty and Purity of Benevolence and are accompanied by the ennobling consciousness of absolute Independence. The Sale of this Property will enable us to extinguish every shackle of Debt, to purchase an equally convenient, more appropriate though perhaps less Imposing Temple, and at once to command and to accumulate a large and effective Fund for the exalted purpose of Charity. These are Results within the Immediate reach of the Grand Lodge, and towards which the Judgment and Feelings of your Committee are Irresistably Impelled.

Abstaining from a Detail as to the Various modes by which the plan may be effected, a Detail whose publicity might in some Degree affect the Interests of the Grand Lodge, the Committee Tender the adoption of the following.

Resolved, That a Committee of Five be appointed to ascertain what Price can be obtained for the Real Estate of the Grand Lodge, and to Receive proposals for the Sale of a Suitable Building for its accommodation to Report to the Grand Lodge at its next Meeting.

Philad^a, March 16th, 1835.

Signed. G. M. DALLAS,
G. M.
Chairman of the Com.

Attest. SAM^l. M. STEWART,
Secretary.

The above Resolution was on Motion made and Seconded Adopted, and R. W. Grand Master was pleased to appoint on Said Committee Bros. Josh. R. Chandler, Josh. S. Riley, Cornelius Stevenson, Wm. Stephens and Mark Richards.

April 6.—A specific Proposal was received from the Franklin Institute to the following effect: To give for the Masonic Hall and the Land, the Sum of Seventy Five Thousand Dollars in Cash and the Hall of the Institute in Seventh Street, occupying 60 feet in front and about 100 feet in depth. This offer was made upon the understanding that another Proposal could be proffered in a few days which would not include, of necessity, the offer of their own Hall.

The Committee offer the following Resolution: Resolved, That a Committee be appointed with Power to Sell the Masonic Hall and Lot at a Price not less than One Hundred and Twenty Thousand Dollars, and that they be authorized to advertize the Premises for Sale, provided that in their Opinion it should be Deemed necessary and expedient.

May 4.—The Committee made the following report:

The Committee to whom was referred the Duty of ascertaining what sum could be obtained for the Real Estate of the Grand Lodge and at what Price another Suitable Hall could be Purchased, beg leave to Report.

That they have Received from the Directors of the Philadelphia Museum an offer of One Hundred and Fifteen Thousand Dollars on the Condition that the Grand Lodge would continue to occupy or hire the parts of the Hall now used for Masonic Purposes with the exception of the Chapter Room, at a yearly Rent of Twelve Hundred and Fifty Dollars.

The Committee have also received from the Trustees or Executive Committee of the Franklin Institute an offer of One Hundred and Ten Thousand Dollars without any Conditions, subject however to the approval of the Institute.

Brother Robert Kid Continues his offer of the Washington Hall for Twenty four Thousand Dollars.

May 18.—The Committee appointed by the Grand Lodge for the purpose of ascertaining what sum could be obtained for the real estate of the Grand Lodge and on what terms another Hall could be obtained, reported that they have received several offers and conferred with other Gentlemen as to the means to be pursued for Obtaining the full Value of the property for Sale, and they have been advised to offer the whole for Sale at Public Auction and they respectfully ask advice from the Grand Lodge on this subject.

On Motion, made and seconded, the above Committee was Continued, and that it was further Invested with power to purchase the Washington Hall, for a Sum not exceeding Twenty Five Thousand Dollars Subject to the Sale of the Masonic Hall.

June 1, 1835.—The Committee reported “That they have purchased the Washington Hall in conformity with the Resolution of the Grand Lodge at the price of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars.

Following is a description of Washington Hall on the west side of Third Street above Spruce Street, as it originally was when purchased, prior to its alteration for Masonic uses by the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

“The plan of the Washington Hall was a parallelogram, 73 feet in front, by 138 feet 9 inches deep. The elevation presented one principal story, raised upon a high, rustick basement. The facade on Third Street was distinguished by a grand niche of 22 feet diameter sweeping into the building, on the principal floor, fronted by a screen of columns of the Greek Ionick character, surmounted by their entablature, over which sprung from a blocking course, a semi-circular arch, equal in diameter to the niche. In this great niche, a statue of Washington was placed; and behind were smaller niches to receive those of Penn and Hamilton. Over these are tablets of decoration, and a pannelled canopy crowns the whole. On the blocking over the entablature, in front of this canopy, an Eagle is represented decending with a wreath of victory, below this niche, on the basement story, a recess, fronted by rustick pillars opens an entrance into the building. On each side of this recess was a small niche for Busts, over which, in the principal story, and above the entablature, were tablets of trophies. These central decorations occupied a space of 38 feet on the plan, projecting four feet before the interior parts of the building, and rising to the height of the main cornice, and were pierced in each story with a single window of large dimensions. The centre building being elevated by the great arch of the niche, stepped back in blocking over the arch. The return of the building to the Washington Hall Hotel, carried the same character of finish as the front, and the whole was enclosed from the street by an iron pallsade.

To enter the building you ascended a low flight of marble steps, through the recess in front, and passed into a circular vestibule, twenty six feet in diameter, crowned by a dome. On the right was the principal staircase; on the left a door lead into an office or committee room, twenty feet by eighteen; in front, an arch way opened into a passage extending the whole depth of the building, and on each side of this arch corresponding apertures lead, the one on the left to a suite of rooms, adjoining to, and opening into the Hotel; that on the right to the banqueting room, which was 117 feet in length, by 30 feet in width, circled at each end, the walls being pierced on one side by windows, and on the other by great folding doors, which, opening across the passage meet corresponding doors opening from the opposite rooms, thus forming a suite of apartments capable of containing 3,000 persons. Two communications were also made with the adjoining Hotel. The walls of the great banqueting room were decorated with pilasters and niches, and the ceiling groined in the centre, and niched at each end. A musick gallery was erected just over the entrance from the vestibule.

At the end of the vestibule a door lead into a committee room, 18 feet by 20; and turning to the right, you entered, through a large folding door, into the grand saloon. This room, which was particularly appropriated to the meetings of the Society, was one hundred and twenty feet long, and nearly seventy feet wide, encircled by a double colonade supporting and screening galleries. Above the entablature of the upper columns, sprung a vaulted ceiling of 45 feet in diameter. This vault was niched at the end next to the entrance, and the circle was continued down to the floor, opened at the angles by recesses, and fronted by columns. The whole height of the saloon was 45 feet. The columns composing the colonade were Greek Ionick below. Over its entablature ran a dwarf balustrading, enclosing the galleries. Above this was a colonade of Attick columns. The rostrum and president's chair were placed a little in front of the musick gallery at the west end, and on each side were disposed the seats of the other officers of the Society.

The Saloon was capable of containing 4,000 persons with perfect convenience, and if crowded, from 5,000 to 6,000 including the galleries. The floor between the columns was so constructed as, by means of screws and other machinery, to be rendered elastic for the accommodation of dancing assemblies; and when used for this purpose the drapery curtains which are proposed as decorations between the columns, being dropped, the space behind them thus rendered private, could be appropriated as a green room, promanade, &c., for such as do not dance.

The roof of this building was designed and executed by Mr. Justus, the Master Builder, was constructed in such a manner as to have all its weight thrown perpendicularly upon the outer walls, so that no part of it bears upon the columns within; consequently the floor of the Grand Saloon carried simply its own weight and part of that of the surrounding galleries, each of the columns of which rested upon the key wedge of one of the girders.

July 6.—Plans were submitted for alterations in the Washington Hall to adapt the building for the requirements of the Grand Lodge and Subordinate Bodies. It was suggested that the south room on the lower floor be used as a Banqueting Room, while the smaller Apartments would furnish excellent Committee Rooms,

Plans for Dedication

Furniture Rooms, &c. One of them could with slight Alterations be put to some Valuable Masonic Purpose; while the Grand Salon was to be divided into two Halls, the larger of which was for the use of the Grand Lodge.

The alterations to the New Hall were commenced without delay, and so rapid was the progress during the summer and autumn that the building was ready for dedication on St. John the Evangelist's Day, Dec. 27, 1835.

Elaborate plans were made for the consecration of the New Building, one of the suggestions made was that the Grand and Subordinate Lodges proceed to take possession of their new hall by a public procession. After several meetings of the representatives of the different city lodges and the Grand Officers, it was decided against any public procession evidently owing to the Anti-masonic agitation and feeling still in the community at that time.

The final arrangements for the dedication were made December 14, 1835, by the following Committee appointed by the Grand Master:

Twenty Eight Lodges being represented the Grand Lodge was Opened in Ample Form at $\frac{1}{2}$ Past 10 o'clock in the Morning.

On Motion made and Seconded, a Number of Brethren were admitted as Visitors.

The Grand Secretary Stated, that the Architect had Completed the Hall, and was desirous of surrendering up the Implements of Architecture which had been Committed to his Care when he Commenced the Undertaking.

Bro. Joseph R. Chandler on behalf of the Architect and Committee of Superintendence Addressed the Grand Master,

Dedication Ceremonies

Returned Thanks for the Honor Conferred on him, and the Brethren Composing the Committee and after a very Beautiful and Impressive Speech on the Purity and Benevolence of the order, expressed a Hope that the manner in which the Work had been executed would Meet the Approbation of the R. W. Grand Master and of the Fraternity, and requested Permission to deliver up the Implements of Architecture.

The R. W. Grand Master then expressed his high Approbation of the Conduct of the Architect and of the Committee of Superintendence, directed the Grand Wardens to receive the Implements which was done, and they were laid on the Lodge.

The Grand Secretary informed the R. W. Grand Master, that it was the wish of the Fraternity to have the Hall dedicated to the Grand Architect of the Universe and to Masonry.

The R. W. Grand Master thereupon Commanded his Grand Officers, and requested the R. W. Past Grand Officers to assist in that Solemnity.

A Dedication Prayer was then offered up by one of the Grand Chaplains.

The Grand Officers then made a Procession round the Lodge three Times formed and Conducted by the Grand Marshal in the following Order, Viz:

at the End of which the R. W. Grand Master Strewing Corn over the Lodge declared in Solemn Form, the Hall Dedicated To the Grand Architect of the Universe and to Masonry, which being Proclaimed by the Grand Secretary the Grand Honors were given.

The Grand Officers again made a Procession round the Lodge three times, at the End of which the R. W. Grand Master Pouring Wine over the Lodge, declared in Solemn Form, the Hall Dedicated To Virtue and to Science, which being Proclaimed by the Grand Secretary the Grand Honours were given as before.

The Grand Officers again made a Procession round the Lodge Three Times, at the End of which the R. W. Grand Master Pouring Oil on the Lodge, declared in Solemn Form, the Hall Dedicated To Universal Charity and Benevolence, which being Proclaimed by the Grand Secretary the Grand Honors were given as before.

A Consecration Prayer was then offered up by One of the Grand Chaplains and the R. W. Grand Master returned to Solómons Chair.

During the Ceremony of Dedication the following Odes were Sung by Several of the Brethren.

First Ode.

Hail! Masonry Divine!
Glory of Ages Shine! &c.

Second Ode.

Hail! Mysterious, Glorious Science,
Which to Discord bids Defiance; &c.

Third Ode.

Dedication Ceremonies

Praise the Grand Master.

A Masonic Canon for Four Voices, Composed by Doct^r. G. R. Jackson.

“Praise the Grand Master of the Universal Lodge.”

The R. W. Grand Master Bro. George M. Dallas, then addressed by the Grand Lodge in a Strain of Solmn Eloquence, in which he most feelingly referred to the Embarrassing situation in which the Enemies of Free Masonry had placed the Order. He called upon the Brethren to Suppress all Feelings of Unkindness, to Hush all Animosities towards Opponents and to remember that the Ceremonies which they had just Witnessed were no Idle Pageants, that the dedication of the Hall to “Universal Benevolence” shewed that in our good Feelings all Mankind were Concerned, while we as Masons Carefully adhered to the Duties we had Assumed, that we were not to overlook the fact that Love to God and obedience to the Laws of the Land were Part and Parcel of the Duties which Masons owe each other and which Masonry Solemnly and Invariably Inculcates upon her Children.

On Motion of Bro. John M. Read and Seconded, it was Resolved Unanimously,

That the Thanks of this Grand Lodge be and they are hereby tendered to the R. W. Grand Master for the Eloquent, Able and Dignified Address just delivered by him to the Fraternity assembled on this Solemn yet Gratifying occasion.

On Motion of Bro. Joseph R. Chandler and Seconded, it was Resolved Unanimously,

That the Thanks of this Grand Lodge be and they are hereby tendered to Bro^r. James Howard, an Invited Brother, Bro.

Dickson of N^o. 114, Bro^r. Knight and Liner of N^o. 187 and Bro^r. W. and S. Ashmead of N^o. 2, who by their Musical Talents, added so much to the Beauty, Harmony and Solemnity of the Present Occasion.

On Motion of Bro. P. G. Master Newcomb and Seconded, it was Resolved Unanimously,

That the Thanks of this Grand Lodge be and they are hereby tendered to the Committee on Purchase and Sale Under whose Superintendence this Hall has been so admirably adapted to Masonic Purposes.

On Motion of Bro. Sam^l. H. Perkins and Seconded, it was Resolved Unanimously,

That the Thanks of this Grand Lodge be and they are hereby Tendered to our reverend Brethren Geo. C. Potts, Rob^t. Piggott, W. T. Sprole and Norman Nash for their assistance in the Solemnities of Dedication.

THE year 1837 did not open auspiciously for the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania. The Chestnut Street Hall had been sold by the Grand Lodge to the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, the consideration being $110,550; divided into five periods of payment, as shown by the original draft in the Archives of the Grand Lodge.³

With privilege to the Franklin Institute to anticipate the payment of the whole or any part of it before those days, in installments of not less than five thousand dollars, on giving thirty days' notice; and guarantee to be given by the Grand Lodge against any outstanding incumbrances which cannot be satisfied at once.

Possession of the entire building and premises annexed to be delivered to the Franklin Institute by the Grand Lodge on the first day of March, 1st of April or 1st of May, 1836, as the Grand Lodge may prefer.⁴

Early in the year 1837 a commercial panic swept over the land.

The great benefits which were expected to follow the chartering of the United States Bank as a state institution were not realized. The banks which had expanded their issues were drawing them in, greatly to the annoyance and distress of many of their debtors.

Over-importation of foreign goods caused heavy exportation of coin to Europe. Under all the circumstances business failures were made frequent. Trade was dull. Thousands of persons were out of employment, and the collection of debts was a difficult matter. The banks stood up against these obstacles until the eleventh of May, when the banks of Philadelphia suspended, and they were followed in that action by the banks all over the country.

Within two days notes of twenty-five and fifty cents and upwards printed in blue ink, were issued by the city and immediately went into circulation, passing from hand to hand as coin might do. The example of the city was followed with little delay by other corporations and institutions, who took occasion of the public necessity to put into circulation notes of five, six and a quarter, ten and twelve and a half-cents and upwards. Specie retired entirely from circulation, being a matter of purchase and sale by brokers. Even the old red cent became scarce. Distressing consequences followed the bank suspensions. In Philadelphia there were insolvencies and general suffering, rents went down, wages were reduced, prices fell, and the injury was universal.

The management of the Franklin Institute was also caught in the financial panic and found it difficult to raise the necessary current funds to pay the accrued interest on the mortgages. In this extremity they followed the course of the city and other institutions by issuing notes of a dollar and fractions thereof, or so-called shinplasters, for the specific purpose of purchasing the Masonic Hall on Chestnut Street. Copies of the 12½ cent (or Levy note)⁵ and quarter of a dollar are here presented in fac-simile as will be seen they were made “payable at the Hall of the Institute one year after date with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per Annum and being part of a loan for the purchase of the Masonic Hall, Philadelphia.”

Following is the schedule of prices for the rooms while the Chestnut Street Hall was in the possession of the Franklin Institute.⁶

The rooms on the first floor of the Masonic Hall Rent as follows, viz:—

Saloon for Month Rent	$150.00
Gas for Do varies from 50 to	150.00
Banq ^t Room Rent for month,	75.00
Gas for do varies from 12 to	50
N. W. room Rent for month	75
No Gas pipes in this room
S. E. Front Room Rent for M ^o	50

⁵ Levy twelve and half-cents, formerly a Spanish real current in the United States, nominally worth 12½ cents, but passing for eleven pence also known as a eleven penny bit.

The six and a quarter cent Shinplasters were known as “fippenney bits” after a Spanish or Mexican silver coin worth 6¼ cents, current in the United States at that time. Specimens in the Grand Lodge Library.

"SHINPLASTER" FRACTIONAL NOTE ISSUED BY THE FRANKLIN INSTITUTE IN 1837, AS PART OF A LOAN TO PURCHASE THE MASONIC HALL.

Financial Panic of 1837

Gas varies from 8 to	20
Ladies Room Rent for Mo.	40
Gas varies would not exceed.	10

The nature of the exhibition is everything to determine the quantity of Gas.

For casual purposes such as Balls, Dinners, Fairs, Concerts and a variety of other things which offer much more can be realised.

For instance the Catholic fair about opening for one week will bring rent $150.

Probable Am^t of Gas 100

A Ball brings in according to kind of party from $70 to $120—

A Dinner from $60— to $90—

The Rooms up stairs if the Grand Lodge was out could no doubt be rented to advantage for a variety of exhibitions, and would bring in a considerable revenue when rented.

All efforts of the Franklin Institute to meet the necessary payments and interest failed under the stress of the times, and ultimately ended by the Grand Lodge regaining possession of the Chestnut Street property in 1842.

The financial panic of the year 1837, also had a sinister effect upon our Grand Lodge; as many of the Subordinate Lodges owing to the financial crisis and the anti-Masonic agitation throughout the state were unable to meet their obligations to the Grand Lodge, and in many cases surrendered their Warrants; even Lodge No. 2, the oldest Lodge in the state for a time considered the surrendering of the Warrant.

The proposition to surrender the warrant of this Lodge to the R. W. G. Lodge was postponed.

The Com. to whom was refered the petition for membership of Bro. Geo. T. Hailer reported favourable. the Com. was discharged, the candidate balloted for and duly elected a member of this Lodge.

The dues was collected amounting to $20.75 and the Lodge closed in Harmony at 9½ o'clock.

THE third decade of the century 1830-1840 was, as has been shown, the darkest period in the history of Freemasonry in America, and of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania in particular. The loss of their fine hall on Chestnut Street, the delinquency of so many of the Subordinate Lodges, together with the financial panic which swept over the land, ended in a culmination of disaster to many of the Masonic bodies throughout the State.

At the outbreak of the Morgan excitement in 1826 there were one hundred and thirty-one active lodges on the roster of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

During the year 1827 there were four lodges warranted, one of which, however, No. 214, Summit Level Lodge, Head of Conneaut Lake, Erie County, December 2, 1827, was never constituted.

In the year 1828 there was but one Lodge warranted, viz: No. 215, Laurel Lodge, Uniontown, Fayette County, June 2, 1828, but was soon after vacated.

In the two following years, 1829-1830, there were no new Lodges formed in the State. In the next year 1831, a single new Lodge was set up, viz: No. 216, Pulaski Lodge, Pottsville, Schuylkill County, June 6, 1831, which is still as active lodge on the roster. With this single exception no new lodge was warranted during the entire decade 1830-1840.

The following extract from the report read at the Centennial Celebration

Centennial Celebration of Lodge No. 2 in 1859 gives us an insight into the conditions during that period of depression.

“But the darkest time in the History of Lodge No. 2 was during the anti-masonic excitement. During the years 1836, 1837 and 1838, the Lodge had frequently to adjourn for want of sufficient members to open, and to the exertions of a few worthy brethren (among whom stands prominent our present well-beloved S. G. W., Brother John Thomson, and to whom the Lodge passed a vote of thanks in December, 1839) to these few is the Lodge indebted for its continued existence. The Grand Secretary, in November, 1838, says “No meetings have been held from July 10, 1837, to December 11, of the same year: nor from December 11, 1837, to March 12, 1838; nor in July of the same year, owing to the non-attendance of the members.” The Grand Secretary has, however, great pleasure in stating the fact that a number of young and intelligent Masons are about to join this old and highly respectable member of the Grand Lodge forthwith.”

At a stated meeting of Lodge No. 2, held March 12, 1838, there were four members of the lodge present, besides Brother John Thomson, of No. 51, who presided; and it was resolved, That the secretary be directed to furnish a list of the members' accounts, and that each brother be notified to attend a special meeting of this Lodge, for the purpose of acting on the following resolution:

“That it is expedient for this Lodge to surrender its Warrant, and that the proper officers of this Lodge make an inventory of the property thereof, and surrender the same with the funds of the Lodge and its Warrant to the R. W. Grand Lodge.”

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

This resolution came up for discussion monthly until the stated meeting in September, when the arrangements alluded to in the Grand Secretary's report caused it to be indefinitely postponed.

Brother William Cummings⁷ presided as W. M. dur-

⁷ William Cummings was, at the time of his death, December 17, 1889, the Senior Past Master. Born in Southwark, Philadelphia, February 6, 1806. His petition was presented March 13, 1826, when he was twenty years of age. His recommenders were P. M. Bro. Joseph Burden, then a member thirty-two years, and Bro. Norris Stanley, then a member for twenty-three years. P. M. Bro. E. T. Weaver, Bros. Nicholas Saring and Chas. Oat were the Committee. He was entered April 10, 1826, passed May 8 and raised August 14, 1826; Junior Warden, December, 1826; Senior Warden, 1827. In the fall of 1828 business required him to be in New Orleans, La., he joined in the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the Masonic Temple in that city. In 1834, Junior Warden, 1835, Senior Warden. During 1837-38-39, which was during the Morgan excitement, he served as Worshipful Master at a time when it required nerve to acknowledge oneself a Mason. At the 125th Anniversary of the Lodge he responded to the toast “Our Veterans.” At the November meeting, 1886, he presented the petition of his grandson, now P. M. Norris Stanley Barratt. He was last present in the Lodge, September 16, 1889. He died the following December, in his eighty-third year. From 1840 to 1865 he was a merchant of prominence, owning and operating his own clipper ships over the world, which helped give the port of Philadelphia her deserved prominence. He built and owned the following vessels, Schooners, Kathleen and John McCrea. Brigs, Baron, Stranger, Pennsylvania, Norris Stanley, Delaware, Joseph Cowperthwait, Emily Cummings, Clara, Huntress and Calvert; Barques, Mary Irvine, Cora Linda, Fairmount, Aaron I. Harvey, Ann Elizabeth, and Margaret Hugg; Ships, Frigate Bird, and William Cummings. He had extensive trade with the West Indies, Bahia, Rio Janeiro and Montevideo, South America, as well as Goree, Gambia and Sierra Leone, Africa; Hong Kong, China, and San Francisco, California. During the civil war he was an active member of the Union League and helped to equip the 118 Penna. Volunteers, or Corn Exchange Regiment for the field. He was a director of the Girard National Bank, Commercial Exchange Ass'n, Insurance Co. of North America, Huntingdon &

Where-as the Meeting of this Lodge have not been attended, with that punctuality promised at the time of joining the institution, and that unless more attention be paid, to the Order by its members, it cannot flourish.

Remember this is the oldest Lodge in the State of Pennsylvania, and I may say, as respectable as any Lodge under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge,

We there-fore hope that our Brethren will Help, Aid, and Assist in preserving, not only its respectability, but its interests.” Resolved,

“That the Secretary notify each Member at the next stated Meeting of a special request on the part of the Lodge, that he be punctual in attendance.”

Resolved, that the Secty be instructed to furnish each Member, (who is in arrears over one year) with his account and request him to appear at the next Stated Meeting.

The Fourth Decade

WITH the beginning of the fourth decade (1840) of the last century the firmament of the Masonic horizon commenced to lighten, the dark clouds of antimasonry which for the past ten years had darkened the Masonic sky, had begun to scatter and eventually vanished into oblivion to become nothing more than a memory or a blot upon our local political history.

In the year 1840 there stood but forty-five Subordinate Lodges upon our register. No less than eighty-six lodges appear to have succumbed to the insane excitement and political agitation, known as Antimasonry.

The first Lodge to be warranted by the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania after the anti-masonic venom had subsided was No. 218, Honesdale Lodge, Honesdale, Wayne County, September 4, 1843.

It was, however, not until the year 1846, that it may be said that the anti-agitation had subsided. This is shown by the phoenix-like revival of the Masonic fraternity throughout the State not alone were petitions for new Lodges presented, but many of the Lodges who had surrendered their warrants during the excitement gradually sent petitions to the Grand Lodge for reinstatement. During the year 1846, four new Lodges were set up in different parts of the State, viz:

1730 — Freemasonry in Pennsylvania — 1907

No. 219, St. John's Lodge, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, March 2, 1846.

No. 220, Portage Lodge, Hollidaysburg, Blair County, September 7, 1846.

No. 221, Franklin Lodge, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, September 7, 1846.

No. 222, Minersville, Schuylkill County, September 6, 1846.

During the year 1847 four more new Lodges were added to the Roster:

No. 223, Allegheny Lodge, Allegheny City, Allegheny County, September 6, 1847.

No. 224, Mahoning now Danville Lodge, Danville, Montour County, September 6, 1847.

No. 225, Philanthropy Lodge, Greensburg, Westmoreland County, September 6, 1847.

No. 226, Mount Lebanon Lodge, Lebanon, Lebanon County, December 27, 1847.

Followed by eleven in the next year:

No. 227, Chandler Lodge, Reading, Berks County, March 6, 1848.

No. 228, Fayette Lodge, Uniontown, Fayette County, March 6, 1848.

No. 229, Rochester Lodge, Rochester, Beaver County, March 6, 1848.

No. 230, Richmond Lodge, Philadelphia, March 6, 1848.

No. 231, Solomon's Lodge, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, March 6, 1848.

List of Lodges

No. 232, La Belle Vallee Lodge, Jersey Shore, Lycoming County, March 6, 1848.

No. 233, St. John's Lodge, Pittston, Luzerne County, March 6, 1848.

No. 234, Meadville now Crawford Lodge, Meadville, Crawford County, September 4, 1848.

No. 225, Presque Isle Lodge, Erie, Erie County, December 27, 1848.

No. 236, Chester Lodge, Chester, Delaware County, December 4, 1848.

No. 237, Chandler Lodge, Washington, now Beallsville, Washington County, December 4, 1848.

Five more were added to the Roster in 1849.

No. 238, Tamaqua Lodge, Tamaqua, Schuylkill County, June 4, 1849.

No. 239, Armstrong Lodge, Freeport, Armstrong County, March 5, 1849.

No. 240, Warren Lodge, Montrose, Susquehanna County, June 4, 1849.

No. 241, North Star Lodge, Warren, Warren County, June 4, 1849.

No. 243, Mahoning Lodge, New Castle, Lawrence County, December 17, 1849.

The abandonment of the Chestnut Street Hall and the occupation of Washington Hall on Third Street proved to be but a temporary episode in the history of the Grand Lodge. The craft, more fortunate than the Franklin Institute, had weathered the storm, both anti-Masonic and financial, and by the inability of the Franklin Institute to comply with their obligations, the title of the Chestnut Street Hall in 1841 again rested in the Grand Lodge.

The Fraternity, however, did not again occupy the old building for Masonic purposes. One reason for this was that, during the past six years, the rooms in the building had been rented out indiscriminately by the new owners, so that by the time of its reconveyance, it had become a place of a somewhat doubtful reputation.

After regaining possession the Grand Lodge at once took means to rent the building to responsible and respectable parties, as shown by following report made by the Committee on Finance, at the Grand Quarterly Communication, December 5, 1849, viz:

TO THE R. W. GRAND LODGE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

The undersigned respectfully reports that since the last meeting of the Grand Lodge he has, with the advice of the Grand Officers, rented the Room in the Chestnut Street Hall, known as the Chapter room to the Commissioners of the County of Philadelphia for the purpose of holding a court of Justice, at a rent of 500$ per annum and that he has rented the refreshment room for a public school room at a yearly rent of 200$ there has also been rented one of the back rooms on the Second floor as a private School Room at 100$ per annum. The Gas Company Still occupy the Workshop in Lodge St. at a yearly rent of 175$ making the permanent rent of the premises in all 975$ per annum.

Erection of the Four Stores

As the resolutions of the Grand Lodge restrict the Grand Treasurer from renting for a longer period than three months without their approbation, he now respectfully asks the approval of the Grand Lodge to the foregoing arrangement.

Respectfully Submitted,
JOHN THOMSON, Gr. Treas.

During the interval while the Grand Lodge occupied the Washington Hall on Third Stret, four stores were erected in front of the old hall on Chestnut Street, as shown by the Records of the Grand Lodge.

The following letter was received and read at the Quarterly Grand Communication held Sept. 7, 1846.

When on motion duly made and seconded, it was resolved, that it be referred to a Special Committee of five.

The Right Worshipful G. Master was pleased to appoint on the above Bros. C. Stevenson, P. G. M., James Hutchinson, Michael Bouvier, Jacob Steiner & George Smith, Committee.

October 5, 1846, a Special Grand Communication was held to take into consideration the report of above committee on the proposition for improving in front of the Chestnut Street Hall.^s

The following report was received & read, viz:

TO THE GRAND LODGE OF PENNS^a.

The Committee to whom was referred the proposition and plan of Brother William S. Shultz for improving in front of the Chestnut St^c Hall.

^s Reprint of Minutes, Vol. VII, p. 377.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

Report, That after several Meetings and a careful examination of the subject they are unanimously of opinion that it would be for the interest of the Grand Lodge to enter into an engagement with Bro. Shultz for the Building of Four Stores on the vacant ground in front of the Masonic Hall Chestnut Street upon the principle & according to the plan herewith submitted in a substantial manner & of the best materials he giving satisfactory security for the faithful performance of the Contract, the said stores to be erected without any cost to the Grand Lodge and Brother Shultz to receive all the rental thereof for three Years from the time of their being finished which is to be on or before the first day of March, 1847, the rent from that time until the expiration of his lease to be received by Mr. E Peale as a full consideration for the surrender of the ground to be occupied by the said erections, the additional taxes on said improvement to be paid by Bro. Shultz and Mr. E. Peale according to the arrangement between them, therefore offer the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That a Committee of 5 be appointed for the purpose of making a contract with Bro. Shultz for the erection of the above stores, said committee in entering into the contract to carefully guard the interests of the Grand Lodge by Securing the Erection of Substantial Buildings of the best Material & Workmanship and finished in all their details the material of the best kind and the specifications to be full and complete with ample security for the performance of the contract. The specifications and security to be satisfactory to the said committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SHOWING THE FOUR STORES BUILT BY BRO. WILLIAM S. SHULTZ, W. M., NO. 180, IN 1846.

Bro. Wm. S. Shultz's Offer

TO WILLIAM H. ADAMS.

Dr. Sir & Bro.,

Allow me through you to present to the Notice of the Grand Lodge a proposition to improve the front of our Hall on Chestnut Street by which it will be much beautified and afford a fine revenue to the Grand Lodge without any expense on their part.

I propose to build Four Stores on the front, two next the East Line and two next the West line leaving a large and spacious entrance to the Main door way of about 30 feet according to a plan which accompanies this. The stores will be 18 feet front by 36 ft. deep leaving 12 feet between the rear of stores and front of Building or Hall. There will be two windows and a door to each front, one door and window in the Back, a good Cellar beneath them for packages, &c., the walls to be of Brick 9 in. thick, the roof of Metal, the fronts finished in the Gothic Style with Plate Glass in the windows and doors, the whole outside appearance to correspond in finish to the front of the Hall as reference to the drawing will shew. I will to erect the 4 Stories and pay myself out of the rents and deliver them at the end of three Years from completion to the Grand Lodge free of all incumbrances. they will be an ornament to the Hall and add much to its appearance while they will yield a fine revenue to the Grand Lodge without any outlay on their part. If you will lay this before the G. Lodge you will oblige

Yours frater., &c

FULL LENGTH PORTRAIT OF BRO. STEPHEN GIRARD, MERCHANT, MARINER AND PHILANTHROPIST.
IN THE CORRIDOR HALL, MASONIC TEMPLE, PHILADELPHIA.

CHAPTER XXIX

THE OFFICIAL REINTERMENT OF GIRARD'S REMAINS, AND THE BUILDING OF THE NEW CHESTNUT STREET HALL, 1850-1855

WITH the beginning of the second half of the nineteenth century a new era of prosperity opened up for the Masonic Fraternity in Pennsylvania.

The first event of importance in this decade was the reinterment of the remains of Brother Stephen Girard. Different accounts of this event have come down to us from both Catholic and secular sources; the actual facts, however, as gleaned from documents in our archives are as follows:

As stated in a previous chapter, Brother Stephen Girard was buried December 31, 1831, in the ground adjoining the German Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church, at the northwest corner of Spruce and Sixth Streets.

A plain flat slab supported by bricks was placed over the vault which contained the remains. This was about the middle of the ground adjoining the church toward the north, and immediately adjoining the fence and walk which runs beside the north church wall. After the remains were finally taken away, this slab was also removed, leaving nothing whatever, to mark the spot where the remains of the great merchant, banker and philanthropist had reposed for nineteen years.

When the main building of the College was nearing completion, the commissioners of the Girard estate and the city authorities commenced to make arrangements for the disinterment of the remains of the great philanthropist where they had rested for the past nineteen years in the vault adjoining Holy Trinity Church at Sixth and Spruce Streets and removing them, to what was to be their final resting place within the grounds of the college, as might be determined upon by the Board of Commissioners of the Girard estate.

There are many conflicting stories told about the removal of Girard's remains, to be found both in Catholic and Masonic as well as secular sources. Apparently most of these accounts differ, and in some cases directly contradict one another. To thoroughly solve this question, and arrive at the truth, and the actual facts of what took place in the premises on those occasions has been our task. For this purpose the original documents of the Church, Commissioners of the Girard Trust, the Masonic Fraternity, court records, and the periodicals of the day have been searched, with the following results, which showed that neither the Masonic Fraternity nor the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania had any part whatever in the removal of the remains from the vault in Trinity Church-yard in January 1851. At the final disposition, however, of the remains, September 30, 1851, the Grand Lodge and Masonic Fraternity had charge of the ceremonies.

At the time of the removal in 1851 the old anti-Catholic feeling known as the Native American Movement still lurked in the community, and as it was rumored that the removal of the remains was objected to by the authorities of the German Catholic Church, feeling against them ran high. Then again there had been trouble in the holy Trinity congregation between the trustees and the ecclesiastical authorities. The church had been closed for some time, but a new set of trustees had been elected and the church was reopened, for religious services, November 24, 1850.¹ It was to these trustees that the commissioners of the Girard Trust applied for permission to remove the remains, after having first secured a permit from the Board of Health, dated December 30, 1850.² The evident cause for this action of the city authorities nine months prior to the time set for the dedication of the college was the fear that some of the Girard heirs might object to the removal, and would attempt to prevent the disinterment by legal means, if possible, a condition which afterwards, as will appear, proved correct.

The committee, consisting of Messrs. George B. Fisher and A. G. Waterman, in behalf of the commissioners, in attending to their duties, engaged.³ Simon Gartland, brother of Bishop Gartland of Savannah, the leading undertaker for Catholics of that day, to attend to the removal of the remains.⁴

It is stated that Amberg the old German Totengräber of the Church,⁵ at first refused to permit the opening of the vault, but being told that if the body was not given up it would be taken by force, he went to Bishop Kenrick for instruction, who told him that he must give it up, saying the body ought never to have been buried there—"He was not a Catholic and besides he was a Freemason." It is further stated that Amberg then entered the plea with the bishop that it was Girard's will that he should be buried there, and if he was not so buried the will would be broken and the orphans would suffer, being anxious for any excuse to prevent the body from being given up. He really thought, however, that such a clause was in the will, and that to move the body would be to break the will. We can understand and give him credit for this conduct. When finally the body was exhumed, the outer or wooden coffin was found to be partly decayed. The inner or leaden one was intact. This when taken out was placed in a rough pine box, and taken away in the undertaker's wagon, while the empty wooden coffin was again lowered into the vault.

The exact day when this took place is not definitely known, that it was, however, during the first week of January, 1851 (evidently January 6 or 7), is shown by the records of the Board of Commissioners.⁶

The remains in the original leaden coffin were at once taken to Gartland's establishment, Thirteenth Street, above Chestnut, corner of (now) Clover Street.

When the Undertaker reached his shop the coffin was placed in the gutter of his yard, after having holes in it to allow such matter to escape as would run therefrom.⁷

Either upon the evening of the day of the exhumation or the day following it had been arranged to open the lead coffin in presence of a number of persons who were members of the City Councils and the Girard Trust. The story goes that, immediately upon raising part of the metal covering, a quantity of gas burst out and was exploded by the flame of a candle, singeing the beard of Mr. Waterman, a member of the committee and one of the City Councils.⁸

The remains, according to the undertaker Gartland, were in a very poor condition, and there was nothing left to distinguish them whatever—a skull and a handful of bones, was all that remained in the casket.

The lead coffin was at once sealed up again, and placed in a new cloth-covered coffin, and, as shown by January 8, 1851, President Lancaster called a meeting of the board of commissioners of the Girard Estate together for the purpose of receiving a report from the committee appointed to examine the condition of the tomb of the late Stephen Girard, and to make such arrangements as will place his remains under and subject to the control of this board.

Mr. Fisher, from said committee, submitted the following report:

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE GIRARD ESTATES.

Gentlemen:—

Your Committee appointed to confer with the Trustees of the Holy Trinity Church and others having authority in the premises, in relation to the removal of the remains of Stephen Girard, beg leave to report.

That they have attended to the duties assigned to them and having obtained the necessary authority, have removed the remains from the Holy Trinity Church Yard to the premises of Mr. S. Gartland, undertaker, 21 S. Thirteenth Street, where they await the action of the Board.

A. G. WATERMAN.

The following resolution was then adopted:

Resolved—That the Presidents of the Select and Common Councils be requested to call a meeting to-morrow at 12 o'clock M., and that the President of this Board be directed to report to Councils that the remains of the late Stephen Girard are now under the control of the Board, subject to the order of Councils, and that they recommend the removal of the remains privately to such part of the College Grounds as Councils may authorize or direct.

On motion, the president was directed to report the following to Councils, viz:

Resolved—That the Commissioners of the Girard Estates be instructed to remove privately the remains of the late Stephen Girard and to deposit or inter the same in such place as the Board may deem expedient and appropriate at the Girard College for Orphans. 1851, Jan. 9.

The president stated that the following resolution had been adopted by councils at a meeting held this morning, to wit:

Resolved—That the Commissioners of the Girard Estates be instructed to remove the remains of the late Stephen Girard and to deposit or inter the same at the Girard College for Orphans, in such place as the Board may deem expedient and appropriate.

On motion, it was

Resolved—That the Board will proceed this afternoon at 3½ o'clock to accompany the remains of the late Stephen Girard from Mr. Gartland's premises to the Girard College for Orphans.

The president made the following report, to wit:

The Board of Commissioners of the Girard Estates, in pursuance of a resolution passed at the special meeting held this day at 1 o'clock, proceeded with the remains of the late

SAMUEL WILCOX, ESQR., Secy:

Dear Sir, In reply to the resolution adopted by the Board of Commissioners Girard Estates inviting the Masonic Order of the State of Penna, to participate in the ceremonies (incident to the final disposition of the remains of the late Stephen Girard) to take place in the month of September next, I would beg leave to state, on behalf of the Grand Lodge, and the Order generally in this state, that your kind invitation is accepted.

The Grand Officers of the Grand Lodge will be happy to meet the Committee of Three (whom you have appointed for that purpose) at an early day to make the necessary arrangements

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM WHITNEY,

Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Penna.

Past Grand Master, Bro. James Page, in a very neat and appropriate address proposed the following preamble and resolution which was adopted, viz:

WHEREAS, it is the intention of the city authorities to remove the remains of the late Stephen Girard, from their present position to, the tomb prepared for the same within the College grounds, and they have invited the Grand Lodge to participate in the ceremony.

AND WHEREAS, it will be eminently proper for the Grand Lodge and the Lodges under its jurisdiction to pay a tribute of respect to the remains of our deceased Brother, on their removal from the present temporary resting place, to that of their final repose beneath the College founded by his munificence, and destined to carry his name to the remotest posterity:

AND WHEREAS, it is desirable that this tribute on our part should be in accordance with the sentiments and habits which marked the character of our benefactor, and be acceptable because of its simplicity, uniformity and impressiveness, therefore,

Resolved, that this Grand Lodge and the Lodges under its jurisdiction will unite with the City Authorities on the occasion referred to under the order and direction of the Rt. W. G. Master.

Resolved, that each individual Brother shall be required to attend in a full suit of black dress coat, with white kid gloves, plain blue sash and plain white apron, excepting the Officers of the Grand Lodge, who shall alone wear the full Masonic regalia of their respective stations.

Resolved, that to secure uniformity and economy, the said sashes and aprons shall be furnished under the direction of the Grand Officers, each subordinate Lodge notifying them in time of the number it will require and paying the first cost thereof.

Notices similar to the following were sent out to the various Lodges in the Jurisdiction.

WORSHIPFUL MASTER OF LODGE No. 2.

Dear Sir and Brother,

Above I hand you a copy of the Preamble and Resolutions adopted at a special Meeting of the Grand Lodge held last evening.

Opposition of the Heirs

The Ceremonies referred to will take place on Tuesday the 30th of September next.

A cordial invitation is now extended to you, and the members of your Lodge to be present and participate in said ceremonies of respect to the memory of one who has done so much for our Institution.

You will please give notice immediately to the Grand Secretary of the number likely to be present, from your Lodge, and the number of Aprons and sashes you will require agreeably to the above Resolution.

Very truly and respectfully yours &c.

WILLIAM WHITNEY,
Grand Master of G. L. of Pa.

As the time drew near for the proposed ceremonial re-interment, the fears of the Commissioners of the Girard Trust and City Councils were realized, that attempts would be made by some of the heirs to prevent by legal means, the placing of the remains in the marble sarcophagus in the vestibule of Girard College.

These heirs contended that Girard had, by the terms of his will, desired burial in consecrated ground, that the removal was illegal, and they attempted to take out an injunction to prevent the interment at the College with Masonic ritual. The agitation was further enhanced by the reports that the Masons throughout the State had determined to march in the funeral procession with extraordinary pomp and numbers, it being their first public demonstration after the anti-Masonic excitement caused by the murder of Morgan.

It appears that the opposing heirs prior to the filing

of the petition in Court for an injunction, had the tomb of Girard in Trinity Church yard again opened, and the empty wooden coffin brought to the surface. Simon Gartland and James McGinnis, his assistant, had charge of this matter. Quoting the Catholic accounts (American Catholic Historical Researches, Vol. 28, pp. 17-20) two boys, James O'Reilly and Andrew Jackson Reilly, later Crier of the Court of Common Pleas, who were present at the time, "state that as the coffin was raised and reached the surface of the ground, and explosion (?) occurred, with a detonating sound like the heavy striking of a bass drum."¹¹ Everybody fell back except McGinnis, who supported his employer. The lid was raised, one side was wrecked. On looking into the Coffin there was no vestige of the body, not even a button, or shreds of cloth,¹² though something might have spilled back into the vault. The empty coffin was hastily placed into a box prepared for it and taken to Gartland's establishment."¹³

Following is an account of the efforts made by the opposing heirs to obtain an injunction against the reinterment of Girard's remains with Masonic honors, together with the order of the Court, refusing to grant a special injunction.

¹¹ Evidently caused by a part of the broken coffin which fell back into the vault. J. F. S.

Legal Proceedings

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS FOR THE CITY AND COUNTY OF PHILADELPHIA. IN EQUITY.

In Re Stephen Girard.

September 26, 1851.

Judges Edward King, Parsons and Kelly.

1. Equity will restrain the removal of a body from a common burial ground, against the consent of the relatives of the deceased.

2. But the Court cannot interfere where the body has been actually removed under claim of right before final hearing, to compel the restoration of the body to its former place of interment.

3. The Councils of the City of Philadelphia having removed the remains of the late Stephen Girard from the burying ground of a church in which he had directed them by his will to be placed, and left them temporarily with an undertaker in order to a subsequent removal to a Sarcophagus at Girard College, accompanied by Masonic and other ceremonies, the consent of the Board of Health and of the trustees of the church having been previously obtained to the removal, a preliminary injunction asked for by Mr. Girard's relatives was refused.

4. If the executors of a deceased decline interfering in such a case, the relatives may be parties alone.

This was a motion for an injunction to restrain the City authorities from depositing the remains of the late Stephen Girard, at the Girard College.

Mr. Girard directed in his will, that his remains should be buried in the grounds of the Holy Trinity Catholic Church, near the remains of his relatives, being in the Catholic faith while in life.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

It is alleged that the city authorities forcibly disintered the remains from their resting-place in the Trinity Church grounds and placed them in the custody of an undertaker, who took them to his place of business, where he has kept them ever since. It is further alleged, that the undertaker bored holes in the coffin to allow such matter to escape as would run therefrom, and that he placed the coffin containing the remains in the gutter of his yard. It is the intention of the city authorities to place the remains of Mr. Girard in a Sarcophagus constructed for that purpose. It appears that the city obtained permits from the Board of Health and trustees of the church to disinter the remains.

Messrs. Dallas and Cuyler, who appeared for the executors of Stephen Girard, stated that the heirs had never been consulted,¹⁴ and contended that the remains should be replaced in the grave from whence they were taken, as they had been removed from their resting-place illegally, and in violation of the deceased's request.

Mr. Olmstead appeared for the city, and denied the allegations of the executors.

Mr. Dallas asked that the remains may be permitted to remain where they are, or be ordered back to their former resting-place, until the court could decide the question before it.

Judge King suggested, that the applicants for an injunction had better permit the city to proceed with her ceremonies, and place the body in the Sarcophagus at the Girard

¹⁴ 1851, Jan. 23. The following resolution had been adopted by the Board of Commissioners:

Resolved, That the President, in connection with the City Solicitor, be requested to communicate with the relatives of the late Stephen Girard, in relation to the re-internment of his remains, and their wishes in regard to the same.

Legal Proceedings

College, until the question can be decided, as it is a novel one, and will require examination.

This was objected to.

Mr. Olmstead contended that the legal title to the remains was in the city, who had the possession, and not to the relatives or executors.

Judge King suggested that the remains be put into the Sarcophagus and placed behind his statue, for safe keeping, without any ceremony, until the decision could be had.

Messrs. Dallas and Cuyler were willing that this should be done, but some difficulty occurred as to dispensing with the ceremony. Mr. Waterman, of the Common Council, was present, and said, that, so far as he was concerned he would agree to it, but he could not control the Masonic Order in their contemplated ceremony. he thought it better so to deposit the body than to permit it to remain in a garret, where it is alleged it now is.

Judge King said, that as it was alleged the the depositing of the remains of the deceased at the College would be offensive to the feelings of his relatives, he thought it would be better to suffer the question to remain until to-morrow morning, to see whether some agreement could not be made between the parties as to where the body shall be kept until a decision can be had.

The suggestion was agreed to.

At the opening of the Court, on Saturday, September 26. 1851, Mr Olmstead stated that no agreement had been entered into by the parties in relation to the disposition of the remains of Stephen Girard

Mr. Cuyler replied that they were agreed that the body should be placed in the Sarcophagus without any ceremony, until the Court could decide, and asked that the body be enjoined.

Mr. Olmstead said they could have no control over the ceremonies of the Masons, as they had invited their fellows from all parts of the country to participate in it, and that portion of the matter was under their immediate control. He said he had nothing to add to what he said yesterday. He quoted Blackstone to show that the relatives had no title in the bones or ashes of their ancestors. There were no religious ceremonies contemplated, and the petitioners could not object with any show of reason on that ground.

J. M. Read Esq., appeared for another of Girard's relatives, John F. Girard, who was one of the heirs at law of Stephen Girard. This heir had often informed him that he was in favor of the removal of the remains as contemplated by the City. This settled the matter as to one of the relatives. According to Blackstone, the remains are not the property of any body, and therefore could not be the subject of larceny, and consequently not the subject of a special injunction in the form asked for.

The relatives, at the original interment, did invite, among others, the Masonic Order. The objection to the burial now, with the Masonic ceremony, can have no merit in it.

The plaintiffs have no title to the body. If any body has a title, it would be the executors, who had charge of the body until it was buried.

Have the parties, applying for the injunction been in time? They have been lying by for months, and now within a few days of its re-interment, after persons from all parts of the United States are on their way to join in the ceremonies by invitation, they ask for an injunction. No religious ceremony will be observed at the interment, and consequently the religious feelings of the petitioners will not be wounded.

Mr. Dallas replied to Mr. Read. He said no one had a higher respect for Stephen Girard and the Order of Masons to which he belonged, than himself. He was about to pay proper respect to his remains by insisting that a due regard should be paid to a public benefactor. Has the City the right to violate the graves of deceased persons? And is this Order of Masons prepared to allow the remains of their deceased Members to be taken from the grave and treated as the bill sets forth this body has been treated! His last dying request was that he should be buried as he was originally buried, in the place indicated by him. His body or his bones were of no value to any body; but he would call upon his fellow Masons and the City authorities to religiously carry out his dying request.

His Executors, after his death, suggested that he should be placed in Ronaldson's burying ground, temporarily, until a Monument could be erected at the College contemplated in his will; but his relatives interposed, and said no, let his last dying wishes be respected, and placed him in the tomb of the friends he designated in his will. The Roman Catholic bishop and the Clergy attended his funeral with the Masons, but the former withdrew when the Masonic ceremonies were about to commence. The ground, however, was consecrated ground. We, who are Protestants, may not perhaps regard this as much. But let us see who is going to throw the first stone. Toleration must be acknowledged in its widest sense, and the feelings of his relatives who are of the Catholic faith, must be respected.

This tomb was violently broken open, and the sepulchre profaned without the knowledge of his relatives. Let any one of us say whether we would permit the graves of our ancestors thus to be violated. What has been done with his body? Taken to the garret of the undertaker, and exposed to shocking indignities. The coffin has been penetrated, and the substance of his body allowed to run out into the common gutter. Do not talk of respect for the grave, when the dead body is subject to such indignities. When his relatives heard of this treatment they did write on and protest against it, and ask that the body be again consigned to its original resting-place. Nothing is communicated to the heirs until the day is fixed for the re-interment, and then the city invites the heirs to be present at the ceremony. There may have been the delay of a few weeks. But when was the invitation sent them? On the day the bill was filed; and yet it is asked this delay is to cure all difficulties.

The bill does not contain the slightest word against the honorable body of Masons. It only asks that the City shall not place the body where they admit the city can exercise no control over it. A dozen or a hundred persons may go into the College, open the Sarcophagus, and do with the body just what has been done by the undertaker. The City cannot control them, as the College is under the control of officers of its own body. Now as to the right of the body. Does the admission of Mr. Fabricus Girard, that he is in favor of the body being placed in the College, deprive the other heirs of their rights? He is in Officer of the College, and may be supposed to act from interested motives. He has been but recently elected, and it is but natural to suppose, that he does not wish to give offence to those who can dismiss him: and therefore sanctions the removal. By his will, he orders his old clothes to be given to the College, to be kept there as a Memorial of him, as was the case with Washington, in another instance; but he does not even intimate that his body is to go there. Stealing a body from the grave for the purpose of re-interring it, has been said not to be actionable at law. This might puzzle a lawyer, but there were sacred feelings in the human heart that were not to be trifled with.

Judge King remarked, that he settled this question yesterday, by stating, that a Court of Chancery would act, and that it was not worth while to labor on that point.

Mr. Dallas resumed; that the decision of Judge Story was full to the points that he had pressed upon the attention of the Court. Judge Story holds "that the remedy must be sought, if at all; in the protecting power of a Court of Chancery, operating by its injunction to preserve the repose of the ashes of the dead and the religious sensibilities of the living." The executors do not appear to claim, as there are no executors; they, while acting, delivered the body over to the heirs. It is said they have no property in the remains now. But they took the leaden coffin, to which the heirs have a right, and the grave clothes. The doctrine of the city is, "the first who grabs shall keep." Under this doctrine graves may be violated with impunity, and the religious feelings of a whole community shocked. The bill asks that the body may be ordered back to the Vault from which it was taken. But he and his colleague had agreed that it should be placed in the Sarcophagus without ceremony, until the question could be determined finally and definitely.

The relatives of Stephen Girard cannot agree to any definite arrangement in the disposition of the body, where ceremonies to which they object are to be observed,

Judge King said that the question involved in the case, was of more than ordinary interest. No analogous could be found in the English or American annals. Is there not that in our laws which guarantees the Security of the Sepulchre? If any person in mere wantonness, should break into the grave, and take away the body, the criminal law would furnish a remedy. And it would even act in a preventive manner. In cases like the present, however, the law has furnished no remedy.

It is proper, therefore, that a Court of Chancery should provide a remedy. Where a person was buried in a common burying ground, where the title did not pass, the law did not furnish a remedy in reference to a removal; but a chancellor would intervene, to prevent the desecration of the grave, otherwise bloodshed and violence would be the consequence. If I had been applied to, before the removal of the body, I would have interfered. But this is not the case here. The city claims as the residuary legatee, and her motive was to indicate respect and honor for the memory of the man.

If the executors chose to disclaim it, they might have done so, if they were executors, but if, they disclaimed, the relatives might be parties alone. In all these aspects a court of equity could interfere. But the body has been removed, and the relatives had a knowledge of it. Even here the Court can interfere; but ordering the body back to its former place, would be deciding the case. We are not asked to do this now. It would be deciding the case before a hearing. This a court never does in granting a special injunction.

The body must be placed temporarily in some respectable resting place. Where so proper a place as in the Sarcophagus at Girard College, instead of the garret where it now is? The final decision of this case, from its nature, cannot be given under six or nine months, and then an appeal lies to the Supreme Court. How much better then to have it deposited in the place contemplated than to have it a weight upon the community. This appears to have been agreed upon by both parties.

The difficulty, however, appears to be about the ceremony. Some persons must deposit the body, as it is to be deposited, and what difference does it make whether few or many attend the interment? or whether the Masons or any other body attend? No religious ceremonies are in contemplation. He would therefore refuse the special injunction to the extent prayed for, and suffer the city to proceed to inter the body temporarily, until its final resting place should be determined by the Court.¹⁵

The Board of the Girard Estate after the removal of the remains to the college had a sarcophagus of Italian marble prepared by the firm of M. & P. Baird, of Philadelphia, at a cost of $1,472.50, wherein what was left of the great philanthropist was to be placed with Masonic ritual. The day set for this final ceremony was Tuesday, September 30, 1851.

In addition to the Masonic Fraternity, invitations were extended by the board to City Clerk, the Superintendent and Register of the Watering Committee, the City Solicitor, the City Surveyor, and the City Commissioners.

These parties were to assemble in the chamber of the Common Council at ten o'clock on the morning of the thirtieth of September.

This being the first public procession of the Masonic Fraternity since the Anti-Masonic blight had swept over the State, great preparations were made by the Grand Lodge to make the pageant imposing and impressive.

The following advertisement was inserted in the daily papers of September 22, 1851:

“MASONIC PARADE. The order will have a grand parade on Tuesday, the 30th inst., upon the occasion of the re-interment of the remains of the late Stephen Girard in the College grounds. The address will be delivered by the Honorable Joseph R Chandler.”

Orders were issued to the Blue Lodges to insure uniformity of dress, as set forth by the Grand Lodge at the Special Communication, August 4, the latter furnishing the blue silk scarfs and white aprons trimmed with blue. A number of these scarfs and aprons are in the Museum collection.

On the morning of September 30 the various subordinate Lodges met at different points at nine o'clock, forenoon, and proceeded to the hall on South Third Street, where the Grand Lodge was assembled. Here

Order of Procession

ORDER OF PROCESSION,

To take place on the 30th September, 1851, incident to the final disposition of the remains of our late Brother,

STEPHEN GIRARD.

The Brethren to meet at their Hall, South Third Street, at 10 o'clock, A. M. The Procession to be by Lodges, the different Lodges ranking according to seniority, except No. 3, of which Lodge our deceased Brother was a Member. Lodge No. 3 will take their place in the rear of No. 2. The Grand Marshal to form the line. Each Lodge will form in the following order:

Entered Apprentices—Two and two.
Fellow Crafts—Two and two.
Master Masons—Two and two.
Senior and Junior Deacons.
Secretary and Treasurer.
Senior and Junior Wardens.
Past Masters—Two and two.
Master of the Lodge.

After the Subordinate Lodges, the Stewards of the Stephen Girard Charity Fund—Two and two.
Band of Music.

Past Grand Masters of the Grand Lodge—Two and two.

Then will follow the Officers of the Grand Lodge in the following order:

Grand Pursuivant and Grand Tyler, with Drawn Swords.
Grand Stewards.
Senior and Junior Grand Deacons.
Grand Sword Bearer, with Sword.
Deputy Grand Secretary.
Grand Secretary, and Grand Treasurer.
Senior and Junior Grand Wardens.
Grand Master, and Deputy Grand Master.

In the above order the procession will move from the Hall, down Third Street to South, observing a distance of four feet between the files. Countermarch up Third Street to Walnut, up Walnut to Fourth, up Fourth to Chestnut, up Chestnut, when the rear of the line reaches the front of the State House, they will be joined by the Select and Common Councils, and Mayor of the City. The procession will then move forward, up Chestnut to Twelfth, up Twelfth to Ridge road, and then direct to Girard College. The procession all being within the enclosure of the College grounds, they will halt, the Brethren face inward, and open their ranks, being uncovered while the Grand Lodge pass. The Grand Lodge move forward through the ranks, preceded by the remains of the deceased, carried by eight Past Masters, the P. G. Masters acting as pall bearers, the Brethren close from the rear, and follow the Grand Lodge until arriving at the eastern side of the College, where the coffin will be temporarily placed in front of a stand, which will be reserved for the Orator and the Grand Officers, after the Brethren have assumed their proper position. A suitable address will then be delivered by Past Grand Master JOSEPH R. CHANDLER.

After the address, and appropriate funeral services, the remains will then be deposited in their final resting place. The line will again form, preceded by the Grand Officers, and as the procession passes, each Brother will throw his sprig of evergreen into the sarcophagus.

The procession will then return in the same order to their Hall, where they will be dismissed.

Sojourning, and visiting Brethren, who wish to join in the procession can do so, by first obtaining permission from the Master of any of the subordinate Lodges.

the line was formed, according to the date of their institution, the left being in front, except of Lodge No. 3, of which Lodge Girard was then supposed to have been a member. This arrangement placed Lodge No. 3 in the rear of No. 2.

It was not until eleven o'clock that the Grand Marshal, Bro. James B. Baggs, gave orders to move the procession.

Following is the order of the procession, showing the various Masonic bodies that were in line:

The stewards of the Girard Charity Fund came next, and were followed by the PHILADELPHIA GRAY'S

The Grand Lodge occupied the left, as the post of honor.

The procession marched down Third Street on the west side to South Street, countermarching on the east side up Third to Walnut, up Walnut to Fourth, up Fourth to Chestnut, up Chestnut.

When the rear of the line reached the front of the State House, they were joined by members of the City Councils and officers of the Corporation.

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

The procession then moved up Chestnut to Twelfth, up Twelfth to Ridge Road, thence direct to the college grounds, where it arrived a short time before one o'clock. The head of the procession passed in and around the immense walks of the college grounds, going nearly the whole circuit before the rear arrived within the enclosure. The ranks were then opened and the Grand Lodge, the corporate authorities, and the remains of Girard passed through the lines, making a full circuit of the walks, and passing to the front and east side of the main building of the college.

The remains of the deceased were contained in a handsome coffin, covered with black cloth and a Masonic apron, and was borne by eight Past Masters of the Order. The four Past Grand Masters acting as pall bearers, on arriving at the platform on the eastern side of the main building, were placed in front of the speaker's stand and the officers of the Grand Lodge, civil authorities, stewards and a number of others took their places on the staging behind and around the bier. The main body of the Order were then brought into close column, or mass, between the staging and the college, where they stood to hear the oration. The several movements of the line inside of the enclosure, in passing from the gate to the stage, over the winding paths, were exceedingly picturesque and displayed the whole body to great advantage.

When the procession had formed in front of the speaker's stand, and the orphans, to the number of three hundred, were arranged on the steps of the college, a Masonic dirge, composed expressly for the occasion, by Dr. W. P. Cunningham, the accomplished leader of the orchestra of the Walnut Street Theatre, was performed by Beck's Philadelphia Brass Band, assisted by several of the members of Dr. Cunningham's orchestra and some of the Freeman's Washington and the Pennsylvania cornet bands.

The music was a beautiful piece of composition, solemn, impressive and grand, and was performed in an excellent manner on thirty-one instruments.

At the conclusion of the dirge the Hon. Joseph R. Chandler delivered an elaborate eulogy in a clear and distinct voice.¹⁶

After the orator had closed his remarks, William Whitney, R. W. Grand Master of Pennsylvania, made a short address, in which he introduced the usual remarks, and referred to the ceremonies peculiar to the funeral of a Mason. The dirge was then repeated by the band and the line was reformed and the coffin carried to the vestibule of the college, where it was deposited in the beautiful marble sarcophagus constructed in the rear of the statue of Girard.

The procession passed through the college, each member placing the sprig of evergreen carried by him in the coffin as they walked by it; and the whole then returned from the solemn ceremonies at the college to the Masonic Hall, where the parade was dismissed.

In the evening of the day, a complimentary Masonic collation was given by the Grand Lodge to their visiting brethren at the Musical Fund Hall on Locust Street above Eighth. One of the menus has come down to us. The collation was prepared at Jones' Exchange Hotel, 77 and 79 Dock Street, who were the leading caterers in the city at that time.

The following account of the affair was inserted in the minutes of Lodge No. 2, October 20, 1851, as it states as a memorial for the future Pursuant to an Invitation given to the R. W. G. Lodge of the State of Pennsylvania by the Corporation of the City of Philadelphia, which invitation was extended by the R. W. G. M. to all the subordinate Lodges within the jurisdiction of the R. W. G. Lodge to participate in the Ceremonies attending the re-interment of the remains of our deceased Br. Stephen Girard.

Lodge No. 2, A.Y.M. met at the American Hotel, Chestnut St, below Sixth by invitation of Br. Ambrose J. White, on the morning of the 30th of September at 8½ O'clock, A.D.1851, A.L.5851, when the Brethren being properly formed by the W. M. they proceeded to the Hall Sth 3rd St. they united with the other subordinate Lodges, and the Grand Lodge in procession to the Girard College, and there participated in the solemn and sublime Ceremonies of the occasion. There were upwards One Thousand Five Hundred in the procession. Lodge No. 2 being represented by the following Brethren & Visitors

“The W. M. reported that he had caused to be prepared upon parchment a list of the Officers and Members of the Lodge for the purpose of being deposited in the Corner Stone of the New Masonic Hall; and also a copy for each member of this Lodge.”

THE next event of importance in the history of the Grand Lodge, F. & A. M. of Pennsylvania, was the laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic Hall in Chestnut Street, below Eighth, on the site of the old Hall of 1809 and 1820, which had been demolished to give room for the new and enlarged structure, still cherished in the memory of the Masonic Ancients and Veterans.

The day set for the imposing Ceremony was Monday, November 21, 1853. The day dawned raw, cold and wet, and as noon approached a cold rain fell in torrents. This, however, did not deter the brethren from carrying out the full program as originally mapped out.

A daguerreotype of the scene was taken from a window on the opposite of the Street, a copy of which is shown upon the opposite page.

Notwithstanding this untoward event an immense crowd gathered to witness the imposing ceremonies, and Chestnut Street and Lodge Alley were both thronged by curious spectators. The windows of the stores opposite, on Chestnut Street, were filled with ladies. A large body of police was in attendance, and prevented disorder.

The joist had been laid for the basement floor of the new hall, and they were securely boarded over for the accommodation of the Craft and other spectators of the exercises. A spacious and comfortable area was thus formed; it was crowded by persons anxious to witness the scene.

Laying the Cornerstone

On the east side a platform was erected for the accommodation of the Grand Officers, the Grand Master having an elevated spot in the middle, upon which was placed the ancient Oriental Chair once filled by Lafayette.

On either side of the Grand Master's seat, arm chairs were placed for the use of the Grand Officers.

There were also ample accommodations for the invited guests, among whom we noticed the Mayor, Recorder, City Councils, the Marshal of Police, &c. The press was also well provided for.

On the west side of the area a large platform was erected for a most excellent and extensive choir and capital orchestra, which were under the efficient direction of Bro. Wm. P. Cunningham. The arrangements throughout were most complete.

ARRIVAL OF THE GRAND OFFICERS.

The Grand and Past Grand Officers, Building Committee, Architect, &c., were at a convenient place in the neighborhood. At half past eleven o'clock they repaired to the spot in procession, clothed in full regalia; the orchestra playing a grand march. The following was the order of procession:

Grand Tyler.

Building Committee, composed of the following named Brethren—

James Page,	James Hutchinson,
Francis Blackburne,	Wm. M. Swain,
Philip R. Engard,	William Carr,
George Smith.

Superintendents.

Architect.

Grand Pursuivant and Deputy Grand Secretary.

Grand Stewards.

Grand Treasurer and Grand Secretary.

Grand Chaplains.

Grand Wardens.

Past Grand Masters.

Deputy Grand Master.

RIGHT WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER.

Supported on either side by the Senior Grand Deacon and Junior Grand Deacon, each bearing a blue wand tipped with gold.

Grand Sword Bearer.

The Stewards, with wands.

On arriving at the ground the escort halted, and opening right and left, faced inwards, and proceeded with reversed front to the platform, the Grand Master at the head. After they were seated in their appropriate places, the Grand Master proclaimed silence, and an eloquent prayer was offered by Rev. John Chambers, one of the Grand Chaplains.

The following Ode, composed for the occasion by Bro. J. K. Mitchell, and the music arranged by Bro. Cunningham, was then sung by the choir and Brethren present, accompanied by the entire orchestra:

MASONIC ODE.¹⁷

O! glorious Builder of the vaulted skies!
Almighty Architect of Earth and Heaven!
Come down to bless the Mason's enterprise,
To thee, O God, and Faith and Mercy given.
A home to Friendship, Truth and Love we raise,
Where, ages yet to come, shall sound our Master's praise.

Silence having been again obtained, the R. W. Grand Master, Anthony Bournonville, Esq., M.D., directed the R. W. G.

Treasurer to proclaim to the Craft from the platform the contents about to be placed in the corner stone, viz:

LIST OF ARTICLES IN CORNER STONE.

List of the names of the Grand Officers of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, and Grand Chapter of Pennsylvania, with a list of the present Past Grand Masters and Past Grand High Priests, elegantly written on Parchment.

Copy of the Holy Bible and the Ahiman Rezon, both very handsomely bound.

List of the Officers and Members of the different Subordinate Lodges and Chapters under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, inscribed on parchment.

Names of the Executive Officers of the General, State and City Government.

All the gold, silver and copper coins of the United States for the present year.

Also silver dollars 1795, 1797, 1798 and 1800.¹⁸

Bronze Medals of Washington and Lafayette.¹⁸

Names of the Building Committee, Architect, Superintendent and Contractors for the several branches of the work.

A picture of the old Hall, a design of the new Hall, a copy of the specifications, a Masonic Register, and the newspapers of the day.

THE CORNER STONE.

The corner stone is formed of a block of brown stone, five feet long, by three in width, and two in depth.—The cavity is three feet long, by one foot wide and one deep. On the upper face of the stone is the following INSCRIPTION.

“This Corner Stone of the new Masonic Hall of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, was laid on the 21st day of November, A.D. 1853, A. L. 5853, with appropriate ceremonies, by Anthony Bournonville, Esq., R. W. G. Master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, accompanied by the following named Grand Officers, and amidst the acclamations of the Brethren:

James Hutchinson, R. W. D. G. M.

Peter Williamson, R. W. S. G. W.

John K. Mitchell, M.D., R. W. J. Grand Warden.

John Thomson, R. W. G. Treasurer.

William H. Adams, R. W. G. Secretary.

And God said “Let there be light.”

After having proclaimed the contents as above, the Grand Treasurer, followed by two Grand Deacons, proceeded to the place where the corner stone lay, in the north east corner of the lot, and deposited the different articles in a metallic box, which was hermetically closed and soldered, and fitted in the hollow designed for the purpose.

While this ceremony was being performed, solemn music was played by the full orchestra.

LAYING THE STONE.

The R. W. Grand Master then left his seat, and, accompanied by the R. W. Past Grand Master, who carried the Gilt Gavel; the R. W. Deputy Grand Master, the Square; the R. W. Sen. G. Warden, the Level; the R. W. J. G. Warden, the Plumb, descended from the platform, and proceeded to the Corner Stone.

The R. W. G. Master, assisted by two operative masons, laid the corner stone in its bed.

Laying the Cornerstone

The architect presented a trowel to the Grand Master, who spread cement upon the stone, applied successively the Square, Level, and Plumb, and delivered the following impressive

PRAYER.

“May the Almighty God bless this corner stone, which we have now laid, and which I, as the Grand Master of the Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania, hereby declare to be duly laid Square, Level and Plumb, and may He by His providence enable us to finish this, and every other work which may be undertaken for the Glory of Masonry, for the Honor of the Brethren, and for the benefit of mankind.”

He then struck the stone three times with the Golden Gavel a little after twelve M., amidst the acclamations of the Brethren. The orchestra and choir meanwhile performing the

HALLELUJAH CHORUS.

The Grand Master and Grand Officers then re-ascended the platform and took their seats.

The Grand Secretary, by direction of the Grand Master, read from the platform the inscription which had been cut upon the stone.

The architect was then introduced to the Grand Master, who delivered him the Plumb, Level and Square, intrusting him with the superintendence and direction of the work in the following words:

“Brother Samuel Sloan—I now deliver to you, the Architect of this Masonic Temple, the implements of architecture and symbols of our craft. May the Great Architect on High speed you and the craftsmen under you; and may He prosper the work, that it may prove the beauty, strength and wisdom of our art, and tend to His everlasting Glory.”

1730—Freemasonry in Pennsylvania—1907

An Oration was then delivered by Bro. John K. Mitchell, M. D., R. W. Junior Grand Warden.

After the Oration was concluded, the following Anthem was sung by the choir.

ANTHEM.

Now elevate the sign of Judah! Now elevate the Banner!
call it forth in Zion.

O put your trust in God! He will save us. He is always gracious to his servants.

O praise the Lord of Hosts! Exalt his name, and glorify him evermore! Forever more! Amen!

After a benediction by Rev. Bro. H. W. Ducachet, Grand Chaplain, the Grand Officers retired in regular order, the orchestra performing a Grand March. The Brethren present, and the spectators, soon after dispersed.

CHAPTER XXX.

THE NEW MASONIC HALL ON CHESTNUT STREET,
PHILADELPHIA, 1855.

TOWARD the close of the year 1855, the hopes of the brethren were realized. The beautiful New Masonic Hall erected upon the site of the Old Hall on Chestnut Street was completed, and ready to be dedicated with Masonic honors. All the trials and tribulations incident to the anti-Masonic craze had been overcome and surmounted; prosperity had returned. It was just twenty years since our Grand Lodge had vacated the rebuilt hall on Chestnut Street under the stress of the times, and moved into smaller and less prominent quarters on South Third Street, as so aptly stated by Brother James King of Pittsburgh in his dedicatory oration:

“Arduously and steadily have those brethren toiled for the accomplishment of their strong desire. Having surmounted every opposing obstacle, and approached nearer and still more nearly to their object, until after twenty years labor in preparing the way, all things, at last, are ready; and this day is witnessed their happy, glorious and complete return, and the consummation of their fondest hopes.”

The day chosen for the dedication and consecration of the new Masonic Hall in Chestnut Street, Philadelphia was September 26, A.D. 1855, A.L. 5855, being the sixty-ninth anniversary of the Independence of the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania and Masonic Jurisdiction thereunto belonging.

Great preparations had been made for the dedication and consecration of the new hall, which was built of brown stone, in the Gothic style or, as it is sometimes called, the “pointed architecture,” which has been considered emblematical of that faith which points to the Divine Architect as the sun and source of every excellence.

The dedication and consecration of the new hall, Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, was celebrated by about four thousand of the Brethren, with great pomp and splendor, and with feelings of gratitude and joy. The Brethren of the lodges in the city, joined by numbers from the different parts of the State, and from our sister States, among whom were several officers of the Grand Lodges of New Jersey, District of Columbia, Massachusetts, Maryland, Virginia, South Carolina, Kentucky, Connecticut, and Tennessee, assembled at the old Hall, in Third Street, at 8 o'clock in the morning, and were formed into procession, agreeably to the following orders issued by the R. W. Grand Master and Grand Marshal.

Order of Procession

The line will be formed at eight o'clock, precisely, in double ranks, left in front, the right resting on the south-east corner of Third and Spruce street, extending along the east side of Third street to Pine street, and from thence along the south side of Pine street westward; the whole under the direction of the Grand Marshal, each Lodge having one Marshal to each fifty members participating; each Lodge to have at least one Marshal, (unless they number less than twenty members, in that case to be regulated by the Grand Marshal,)—their duty is to attend exclusively to and be accountable for the good order of their particular Lodges, and see that the directions of the Grand Lodge are strictly enforced. The space between the files on the march to be two feet, to be carefully preserved throughout. The line, when formed will move along Pine street to Broad street, thence to Spruce street, thence to Twelfth street, thence to Walnut street, thence to Independence Square. On arriving opposite the centre gate, the Brethren halt, face inwards, and countermarch in the usual form, passing into Independence Square. After the ceremonies in the Square, the line of march will be again resumed, (the original formation being strictly observed,) moving by the left, passing round the Square and out by the south gate to Walnut street, thence to Fifth street, thence to Arch street, thence to Seventeenth street, thence to Chestnut street, thence to New Hall. On arrival of head of procession at the Hall, the Brethren halt, face inwards, and again countermarch in the usual form.

As the Masters, Wardens, and Past Masters of the respective Lodges arrive at the corner of Seventeenth and Chestnut streets, they will break from the procession for the purpose of being formed with the Grand Lodge. The several Lodges now meeting in the Hall in Third street, will make arrangements for convening at some other place on the day of dedication, reserving the said Hall for the accommodation of visitors from a distance and the Lodges of this jurisdiction from the country districts. Each Brother will be required to attend in a full suit of black, dress coat, with white kid gloves, plain blue sash and plain white apron, (such as have been ordered for the occasion,) excepting the Officers of the Grand Lodge, who alone wear the full Masonic Regalia of their respective stations. This order will be strictly enforced.

JAMES HUTCHINSON, R. W. G. M.

GRAND MARSHAL'S ORDERS.

In conformity with the orders of the Right Worshipful Grand Master, and to facilitate the formation of the procession, the respective Lodges will be at the place of general formation prior to eight o'clock, A. M., as at that time the procession will positively be formed, and take position as herein designated, and be assigned their places in line by an assistant Grand Marshal.

The Marshals of Lodges, immediately on their arrival at the place of formation, will report to the Assistant Grand Marshal, who will furnish them with their badge of office, and such orders as may be requisite for the conduction of the Procession.

The members of each Lodge will be formed in the following order, having due regard to the brethren being arranged according to height.

The demolition of the Old Masonic Hall was virtually completed in September, 1853 ; a committee of the Grand Lodge was appointed to superintend the search for the original corner-stone that was laid the seventeenth day of April, 1809.

There was considerable search made for the stone before it was found, the committee having charge of the building not having examined the records relating to the matter were, of course, not aware of the exact spot upon which to look for it.

It was found on Thursday, September 20, 1853, in the north-east corner of the lot, about 50 feet from the north line of the lot, the second building having been deeper than the original edifice.

It was firmly imbedded in the solid masonry and much labor was required to effect its removal until late in the afternoon when it was dislodged, and much to the chagrin of the committee, it contained no cavity. It was a plain marble slab bearing a Latin inscription neatly cut upon its face, and in an excellent state of preservation. This was covered by another slab to protect it.

The corner-stone was at once removed to the Hall, in Third Street near Spruce, and was subsequently placed in a conspicuous position in the new building with an explanatory tablet adjoining ; both of these tablets are now in the Museum of the Grand Lodge in the Masonic Temple.—(J. F. S.)

Brethren from other Jurisdictions will assemble on the south side of Spruce street, between Second and Third streets, and be under charge of an Assistant Grand Marshal. On arrival of the Masters, Wardens, and Past Masters, (by election) of the respective Lodges, at the corner of Seventeenth and Chestnut street, they will break from the procession, filing to the right (the Masters and Wardens on the south side, and Past Masters on the north side of Chestnut street,) for the purpose of being formed with the Grand Lodge. Lodges not having the requisite number to entitle them to a Marshal will be formed under the direction of their respective Masters, who will with the Assistant Grand Marshals, report at Grand Marshal's office, (Masonic Hall, South Third Street,) on the morning of the 26th instant, at seven o'clock.

The Marshals of Lodges will be particular in observing that the orders of the Grand Master are strictly conformed to by the Brethren, especially as regards dress, which will consist of a Black Hat, Black Cravat, Black Vest, Black (Dress) Coat, Black Pants, and White gloves. On no consideration can Brethren not conforming to the above be admitted in the Procession. Canes, unless absolutely required, will be excluded from the line. No Brother unattached to a Lodge, can participate in the ceremony. In countermarching, the Lodges will pass through the Hall to Lodge alley. As they leave the building, they will be under the direct control of their respective Marshals, who will immediately conduct them to some suitable place for the purpose of unrobing and dismissal.

The Hall will be opened on the afternoon of the 26th instant, from two and a half to five o'clock, for the accommodation of Brethren of the Order residing out of the City.

The following named Brethren have been appointed Assistant Grand Marshals, and will be respected accordingly.

Bros. J. L. Hutchinson, Alex. Murphy, Geo. W. Wood, Wm. Camac, F. S. Lewis, J. Wm. Hoffman, Jas. B. Fidler, David F. Foley, Thos. A. Andrews, A. C. Suplee, A. L. Hough, Geo. F. Delleker, Wm. A. Fox, Martin Leans, G. Eckendorf, Atwood Smith, Edwin Watson, Franklin Smith. J. Loudenslager, Grand Marshal.

In the order laid down, the procession moved over the route fixed upon. When the front of the procession reached Independence Square, (Walnut street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, centre gate,) the Brethren halted and opened ranks, facing inwards. The Grand Master and Grand Officers, preceded by a Band of Music, moved through the ranks into the square, the Brethren uncovering as the Grand Master and Grand Officers passed them, and closing from the rear, followed in reversed order. The Grand Master, Grand Officers, Orator of the Day, and the Grand Officers of sister Grand Lodges, and a number of aged Brethren, occupied a platform erected for the purpose near the centre of the Square. The bands and choristers, under the direction of Bro. Wm. P. Cunningham, occupied a large platform on the other side of the broad avenue, directly opposite the platform occupied by the Grand Officers.

Ceremonies in Independence Square

The bands played a grand march until all the Brethren were arranged on the avenues between the platforms. It is almost impossible to give a description of the splendid appearance of the Brethren thus assembled—it was truly a magnificent sight, and worthy the occasion.

CEREMONIES IN INDEPENDENCE SQUARE.

By the Rev. Bro. John Chambers, Grand Chaplain.

We beseech thee, Omnipotent Jehovah, thou Great Architect of the Universe, to protect, guide, and perpetuate this glorious Union, suffer not a link of the great chain that binds us as a people to be severed. And now, thou infinite Jehovah, as a band of Brethren, we implore thee, as the memories of the past crowd upon us, that the gates of the Temple of Liberty, erected by our Fathers, may stand open night and day, that the oppressed of all nations may here find a home, and the poor exile shake from his thin robes the chilly dews of other and less favored climes, and here clothe himself in the garments of Freedom. And like this great Masonic heart, whose pulsations are Universal Benevolence, Faith, Hope and Charity, may this institution continue to be one great heart of Unity and Love forever. Amen.

MASONIC ODE.

Music by Bro. Wm. P. Cunningham, words by Bro. F. N. Crouch.

Choir and Full Orchestra.

Chorus.

Refulgent orb of Heaven and Earth,
That givest light and nature birth,
Beneath thy rays we offerings bring
Of filial love to Heaven's High King.
This day before thy Master's throne
We dedicate the work that's done;
Look down upon us, Mighty God,
And signify our labors good.
Our temple's raised our voices ring
With hallelujahs to Heaven's high King.

Solo.

We've sought the Landmarks of the good,
By drawing water, hewing wood;
By consecrating halls to Thee,
Thou God of vast Eternity.
From East to West our name is known,
From North to South Thy seed is sown.
Wherever man on earth repairs,
Thy love and laws he wisely shares.

Vocal Music

Quartette.

Father of Mercy, Truth and Grace,
From every Mason's heart efface,
Each thought that would do wrong to Thee.
Master, through all Eternity,
Thy will be done on Earth, in Heaven—
Forgive our sins as we've forgiven—
Endue us with fraternal love,
Prepare us for the Lodge above;
Square in action, level, true,
As down life's vale we journey through.
Thine be the glory, Thine the praise—
Accept the joyous songs we raise.

Grand Chorus.

Hosannahs to the Father,
Through vaulted space shall run,
We consecrate our Temple,
The Builders' work is done.

Semi-Chorus.

Now to the Lodge repairing,
In true Masonic labors sharing;
Holy, just, and pure the creed,
To succor, and to clothe, and feed
The orphan child and widow'd mother;
The last behest of a dying Brother.

Grand Chorus.

Hosannahs to the Father, &c.

GRAND CHORUS.

Music by Haydn. Adapted and arranged by Bro. W. P. Cunnington.

Achieved is the glorious work,
The Lord beholds it and is pleased,
In lofty strains let us rejoice,
Our song let be the praise of God.

MASONIC ODE.

Music by Bro. W. P. Cunnington. Words by Bro. John K. Mitchell.

Choir and Full Orchestra.

O! glorious Builder of the vaulted skies!
Almighty Architect of Earth and Heaven!
Come down to bless the Mason's enterprise.
To Thee, O God, and Faith and Mercy given.
A home to Friendship, Truth, and Love is raised,
Where ages yet to come our Master shall be praised.

GRAND HALLELUJAH CHORUS BY HANDEL.

Arranged by Bro. W. P. Cunnington.

Hallelujah! Hallelujah!
For the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth,
The kingdom of this world is become
The kingdom of our Lord,
And he shall reign forever and ever
King of Kings and Lord of Lords!
Hallelujah! Hallelujah!

CHESTNUT STREET, BETWEEN SEVENTH AND EIGHTH, NORTH SIDE, PHILADELPHIA.

Ceremonies in the Hall

After the ceremonies in the Square, the line of march was again resumed, (the original formation being strictly observed,) the line moved by the left, passed around the Square, and out by the south gate to Walnut street, thence to Fifth street, thence to Arch street, thence to Seventeenth street, thence to Chestnut street, thence to New Hall. On the arrival of the head of the Procession at the Hall, the Brethren halted, faced inwards, and again countermarched in the usual form.

As the Masters, Wardens, and Past Masters of the respective Lodges arrived at the corner of Seventeenth and Chestnut streets, they broke from the Procession for the purpose of being formed with the Grand Lodge.

Upon entering the Hall, the Grand Lodge proceeded up stairs to the Grand Lodge room, where the ceremony of dedication was to be performed. The Subordinate Lodges merely filed through the building upon the lower floor and passed out of the rear door on Lodge street. They then repaired to convenient places, where they were dismissed.

CEREMONIES IN THE HALL.

Upon the entrance of the Grand Lodge, the Band played a Grand March. On the Grand Master reaching his Chair, the G. O. took their stations and the Members their seats.

Grand Lodge Opened.

By Bro. R. Deshea Morris, Grand Chaplain.

The Architect then handed over to the Grand Master possession of the Building. After the reply of the Grand Master to the Architect, the following
